

Metal Detectors

Although most metal detector applications do not allow for steel in near proximity to the detector unit, the BFM® fitting can still provide the perfect connector solution. The BFM® fitting has a range of urethanes that are suited to metal detection devices.

If required, plastic rings can also be moulded into the outside of the connector to help keep the sleeve 100% open during operation.

