CUBIC TURNKEY

Have Cubic set your business up for success

Cubic has in-house applications engineers with decades of experience. This allows for unique solutions to painful bottlenecks and guaranteed results. With a print, a part and an consultation Cubic can create efficiently machined parts with low cycle times. This is due to our team being able to draw upon years of experience. Creative tooling, thoughtful machining strategies and straightforward loading systems allow our team to deliver simple and effective turnkey solutions.

Turnkey packages come with a runoff and training at cubic machinery in Chino, CA. Once delivered to your manufacturing floor the machine is ready to start making you money immediately. After installation Cubic's Engineers will then be only a phone call away ready to answer any questions that may arise during the process.
