2 Discuss Details

Community Compost Company will call you to review the composting program and answer your questions. If you're interested in participating, they will help you to assess your volume of compostable materials, and determine the number of bins and frequency of pickup service that's right for you.

3 Sign up for Compost Pickup

Sign up with Community Compost Company to register for pickup service.

4 Get Trained

Community Compost Company will visit your business for a FREE training session with the manager and key staff where they will discuss: what materials are compostable, how to separate compostable materials, where the bins/signage should be located inside and stored outside the business, when the bins will be picked up, and why composting is important to Hoboken.

5 Get started!

Start recycling your food waste with Community Compost Company. Track the volume of materials you're diverting from landfill through their online dashboard, measuring your impact weekly.
