A high-quality photograph of a restaurant table setting. In the foreground, a round pizza with a thick, charred crust is topped with a mixture of yellowish-brown sauce, red meat, and melted cheese. It sits on a white plate. To its right, another pizza with a similar crust is topped with green broccoli florets and melted cheese. In the background, a metal bowl holds several golden-brown bread slices, and a wooden bowl contains dark olives. A tall, elegant glass stands next to a simple tumbler glass filled with water. In the lower right, a silver fork and knife are neatly placed on a folded grey napkin. The table is covered with a textured, light-colored placemat. The word "Restaurant" is written in a white, italicized serif font across the center of the image.
