New York, New York – September 13, 2023 – National College Resources Foundation (NCRF) is proud to announce the 12th Annual Black College Expo™ on Saturday, September 23, 2023, from 10:00 am to 4:00 pm at Medgar Evers College, 1650 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, New York, 11225. This highly anticipated event invites students of all ages to attend. High school juniors, seniors, transfer and adult students can engage in one-on-one interactions with Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs), along with a diverse range of other colleges and universities.

The Black College Expo™, an invaluable opportunity for students and families, is offering FREE admission thanks to NY State Senator Kevin S. Parker and Medgar Evers College President, Dr. Patricia Ramsey.

“We have now been in New York for 12 years. We are bringing in resources to empower education, health and wellness, financial literacy, entrepreneurship, and sharing with our communities about the power of their voice,” says NCRF Founder and CEO, Dr. Theresa Price.

Key highlights of the event include students being accepted on the spot, having college application fees waived and receiving scholarships on site. High school juniors and seniors are encouraged to bring their transcripts and ACT/SAT test scores to maximize their chances of securing admission to some of the institutions. Some colleges will also be recruiting college transfer students to be accepted on the spot. Students are welcome to “Unlock Your Career Path” by exploring various job and internship opportunities in connecting with industry-leading companies looking to recruit talented students.

In addition to getting connected to college recruiters, students will have access to informative seminars including How to Find Money for College, Booming Careers, 411 for the Student-Athlete, ROTC Pathway to Success-Scholarships, Leadership and Generational Wealth, The Power of Your Voice-The Steps to Becoming Change in Your Community, Why Attend an HBCU, and more.

During the After Show, attendees will have the chance to win exciting prizes. Additionally, a "Dance Off" for Cash will be hosted by celebrity guests, actor London Brown (Ballers, Raising Kanan) and Jay Z's record label ROC NATION, adding an extra element of excitement to the event.
