

MICHAEL HURLEY

His father

broke the legs off an antique telephone table
to make a Ouija board in the basement.

He carved each letter
carefully.

Told me

To pluralize Jesus,

one must know

what he is getting into.

Curled rinds

sprang from the cold beak
of his claw hammer.

Even to sin he said

is a matter of faith.