

November 14, 2022

Leading Cancer Specialists join UHSCC at SRMC

Igor Genkin, M.D. (left) &
Ranga Brahnamdam, M.D.

Fellowship-trained Oncologists/Hematologists Igor Genkin, M.D., and Ranga Brahnamdam, M.D., have joined the team of cancer specialists at the University Hospitals Seidman Cancer Center (UHSCC) at Salem Regional Medical Center (SRMC). The UHSCC at SRMC provides area patients with local access to expert cancer care and world-class treatment.

Igor Genkin, M.D.

Dr. Genkin will serve as the new Medical Director for the UHSCC at SRMC, bringing more than two decades of cancer care expertise to his role.

He completed his Internal Medicine residency at Mt. Sinai School of Medicine, New York, and his Hematology and Oncology Fellowship at the Cleveland Clinic Foundation/The Ohio State University.

Board Certified in Medical Oncology, Hematology and Internal Medicine, Dr. Genkin has held multiple academic, leadership and research positions throughout his career. He most recently served as Chief of Hematology/Oncology at Elmhurst Hospital Center in New York.

“It’s a privilege to have the opportunity to oversee this nationally-accredited cancer program,” he said. “As cancer treatments continue to advance and give new hope to those battling the disease, I look forward to working with our team of specialists to bring the latest cancer-fighting therapies to our patients.”

Ranga Brahnamdam, M.D.

Oncologist/Hematologist Ranga Brahnamdam, M.D., also joins Dr. Genkin in providing advanced cancer care for patients at the UHSCC at SRMC.

He completed his Internal Medicine residency at Columbia University, New York, followed by specialty training in Hematology and Oncology through a Fellowship at the University of Cincinnati.

Dr. Brahnamdam has over 25 years of experience treating cancer patients, with a special interest in blood cancers. He was previously the director of the leukemia program at Good Samaritan Hospital in Cincinnati.

About the UH Seidman Cancer Center at SRMC

Salem Regional Medical Center is transforming cancer care in the region through a strategic partnership with the University Hospitals Seidman Cancer Center that offers renewed hope in the fight against cancer. Local medical and radiation oncologists, specialty physicians and 14 multi-disciplinary teams of experts at UHSCC's main campus work together to develop patient treatment plans based on nationally-recognized guidelines.

The UHSCC at SRMC is nationally-accredited by The Commission on Cancer, a quality program of the American College of Surgeons, for demonstrating continued excellence in diagnosing, treating and supporting patients with cancer and their families.

For more information, contact the UHSCC at SRMC 330-332-7672 or visit www.salemregional.com/outpatient-care/cancer-care.