

OAKLAND ZOO BIRD CROSSWORD

HARD

Across

- Oakland Zoo conservation partner that rescues, cares for, and re-homes pet parrots.
- Color of the Cattle Egret's egg.
- Food of the California Condor.
- Group of birds that the Bald Eagles belong to.
- The ridged part on the upper mandible of the Malayan Wreathed Hornbill.
- A group of birds intermediate between geese and ducks.
- Where the Hornbill Nest Project is based.
- Another word to describe a social bird
- The main predator of the emu.
- Oakland Zoo conservation partner that helps many wild animals, including parrots.
- The Lesser Flamingo eats by _____.
- Type of symbiotic relationship the Cattle Egret has with large mammals.
- The special name for some of the Blue-bellied Roller tail feathers.

Down

- A long soft feather or arrangement of feathers used by a bird for display.
- Baby parrots hatch helpless and require parental care.
- Egyptian Goose genus.
- Fischer's Lovebirds are _____ nesters.
- Pesticide used from the 1940's to 1960's that caused eggshell thinning in Bald eagles and California Condors.
- Oakland Zoo conservation partner that focuses on saving the California Condor population from extinction.
- Nests of the Lesser Flamingo are tall to prevent _____.
- The Blue-bellied Roller is this type of specific carnivore.
- Swahili name for the African Spoonbill.
- Throat pouch of the Malayan Wreathed Hornbill.
- The Hadada Ibis can be found around wetland _____.
- Parrots ingest this to help them eliminate toxins obtained by eating unripe fruit.
- The Guira Cuckoo will _____, or preen other members of the flock.