How To Build an Impactful LinkedIn Profile

Radina Nedyalkova

Donna A.

I liked that it was personal and there was some good insider information directly from an Ex LinkedIn Employee. The Jolter had great knowledge and provided relevant feedback based on the group's needs.

Dan M.

Radina is so specific and succinct — content and delivery were spot on. The exercise really got me thinking and demonstrated her points well and she has us super practical and tangible things to take away.

William P.

I liked the topic, presentation style and practicals done during the session. Probably one of the best sessions I've attended.

About Jolt

Jolt is a revolutionary business school for the self-made, reshaping the future of higher education. At Jolt, we teach the world's most effective business method: The startup method.

Our innovative flexible NAMBA (not-an-MBA) program teaches marketing, sales, data, product, personal skills, leadership, management and how it's done in the world's most innovative companies. We only have one mission here at Jolt — pushing our students forward.

The Bottom Line

We're looking for professionals who are at the top of their field, who want to teach and empower others and deliver live video classes from the comfort of their home.

You'll be part of a movement of world-class experts who teach Jolt's students.

Benefits

Make an impact

You'll get the opportunity to inspire lifelong learners and give them true value.

Networking & personal branding

You'll expand your professional network by joining the Jolters' community, receive invites to unique networking events, take part in development programs and get a personal marketing kit.

Business exposure

Jolt is an opportunity to expand the reach of your business by speaking directly to leading professionals, getting featured on our website and joining an exclusive network.

Financial compensation

In addition to getting paid for the Jolts you teach, you can enjoy additional work opportunities such as peer reviewing, mentoring and conducting live training sessions, once certified by the Jolters committee.

Lifelong learning

By being active in preparing the content, getting real-time insights from students' questions, and getting feedback through the whole process.

You are...

Highly experienced in your craft, charismatic, curious, love to teach and share your knowledge, open to learn new things and for ongoing feedback. You know how to dazzle the audience of small and large groups, and most importantly — enjoy doing it.

Once becoming a certified Jolter, you'll be able to set the frequency of the Jolts you deliver each month at the most convenient time for you.

Getting certified

Those admitted will receive executive-level public speaking coaching and training worth tens of thousands of dollars.

- Online on-boarding & training.
- Demo session.
- Professional feedback sessions with a world-class speaking coach.

Certified Jolters also get:

- A free Jolt membership.
- Invites to networking events with other global instructors.
- Unlimited access to world-class speakers coaching.

Content

We’ve built our own MBA syllabus. You’ll be matched with the right content and will receive full training and materials that will help you ace it.

You’ll be able to adjust and control some of the content, and edit up to 15% of it with your personal examples and case studies if you’d like.
