

Greater Cincinnati Water Works (GCWW) Lead Service Line Replacement Program

GCWW is committed to providing clean, safe drinking water to all customers.

GCWW is replacing all lead service lines with copper.

Why is replacing service lines from lead to copper necessary?

Service lines deliver drinking water from the main under the street to your home

There are about 37,000 active residential lead service lines in the GCWW service area

Lead service lines are the primary cause of lead in drinking water

Full replacement is recommended for everyone, but especially...

For all child care facilities

When high lead levels are detected through testing

When there is a leak

When a water main is replaced

Who pays for a lead service line replacement?

Greater Cincinnati Water Works pays

100%

of all replacement costs with participation in program
