

If you are not familiar with the World Education Summit, it is worth exploring. Educators from around the world present on a variety of pertinent topics. Below are the 10 trends from the 2022 Summit.

1. Learning First—Hear of the findings from the world's largest global survey of learning.
2. Democratisation of Learning—Recognize the power of feedback to empower children to have voice in their own learning.
3. Social Emotional Learning (SEL)—Explore the power of high collective efficacy to lift those struggling with self-efficacy.
4. Learning Strategies—Learn of the 450 different learning strategies that John Hattie and his team have identified, noting that most learners use between 1 and 3 for most tasks.
5. Embracing Errors and Mistakes—Understand that mistakes lie at the hinge point of learning and how to help children move beyond errors to genuine learning.
6. Equity-Techquity—Learn how to ensure that technology is an enabler and not a block to equity.
7. World Class Initial Teacher Education (ITE)—Explore the key elements of world class ITE and how to make it happen globally.

8. Contribution Science—Hear of the emergence of contribution science and how collaboration and connection to wider society can impact well-being.
9. The Leadership Climate Challenge—Find out how leading through adversity embraces strong relationships and striving for collective efficacy.
10. Collective Assessment—Recognize the best new assessment practices from around the world.