CREATING FIERCE CONSUMERS OF HEALTHCARE

Abett exists to create fierce consumers of healthcare

The inefficient, opaque, and asymmetric flow of data in the current healthcare system fundamentally abuses those who actually pay for benefits: employers.

The Abett Lockbox disrupts this paradigm by empowering employers to take ownership of their healthcare data.

Healthcare data before Abett

In the incumbent system, healthcare data flows inefficiently from point to point amongst various players with interests unaligned to plan sponsors.

Data rarely, if ever, flows to employers.

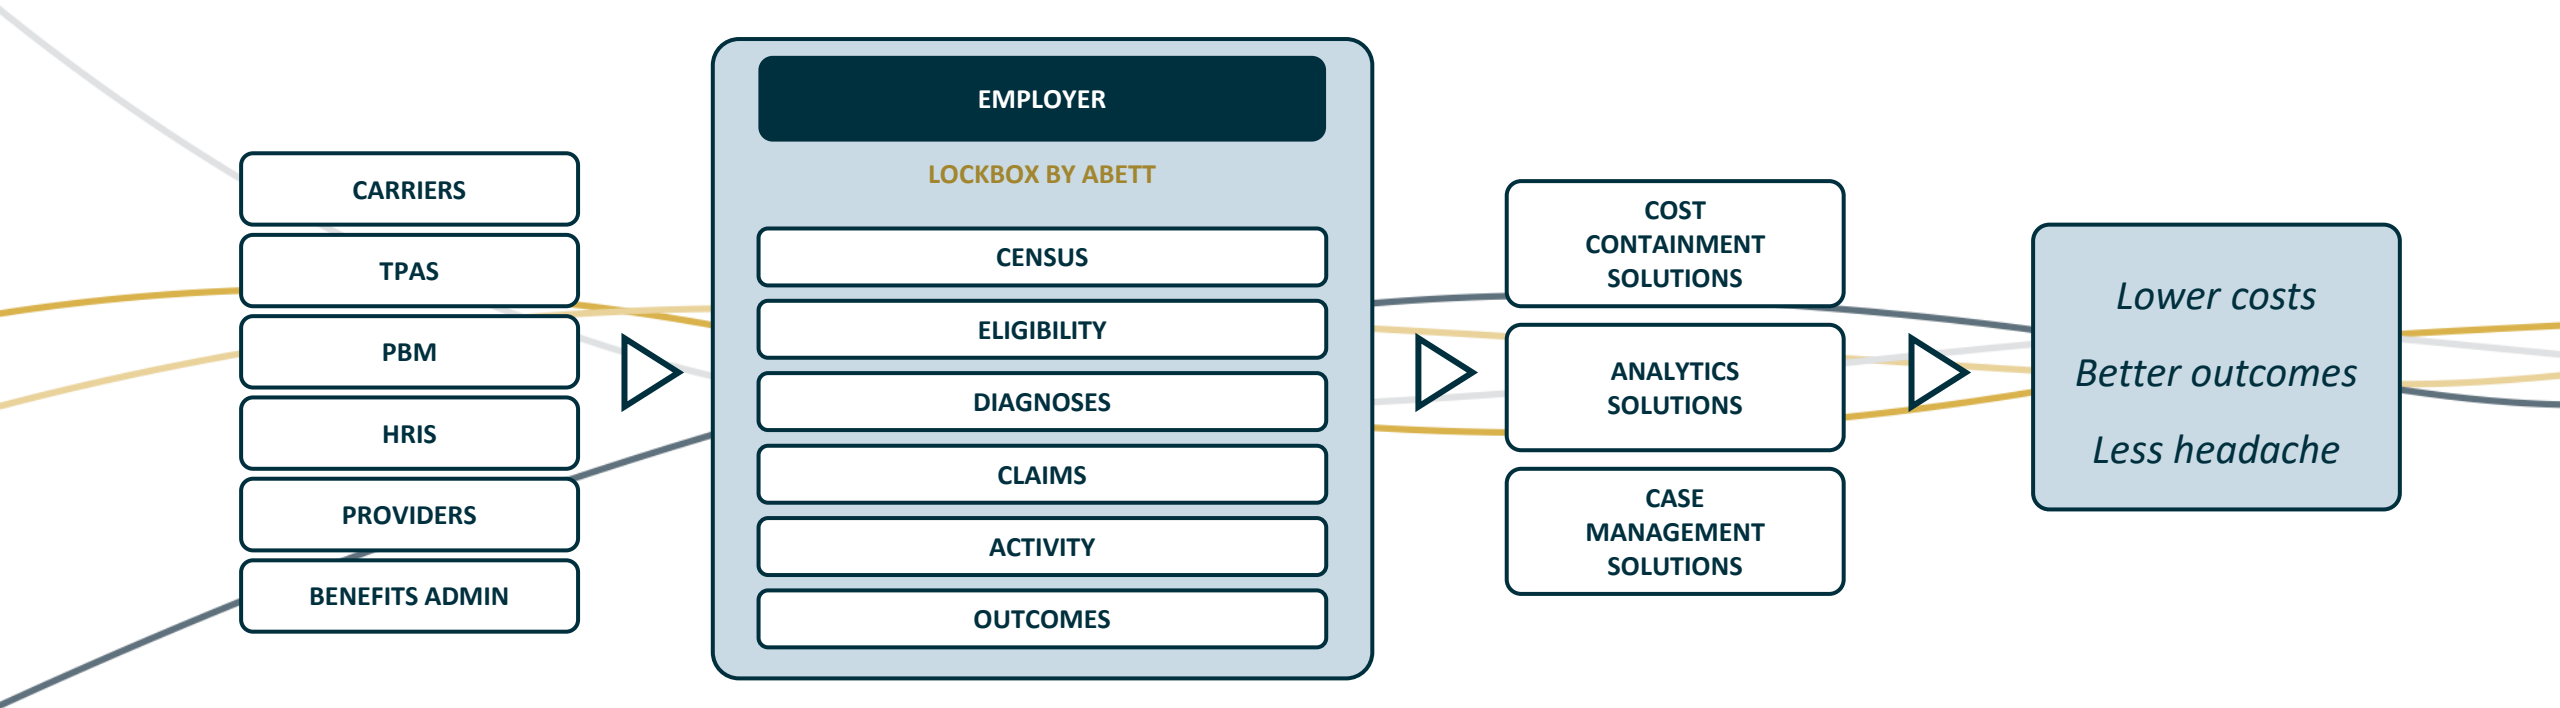

Consequently, employers are left with little control over their benefits outcomes despite ever rising cost.

This system is unnecessarily complex, opaque, cumbersome, and expensive for employers.

The new paradigm with Abett

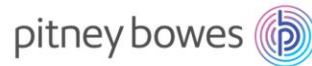

The Lockbox by Abett empowers employers to take ownership of their benefits data in a modern, secure and compliant environment.

Data flows seamlessly from vendors into the Lockbox which the employer controls. This enables employers to choose which vendors receive the data necessary to achieve lower costs and better outcomes.

Trusted by leading enterprises
