Mr Olsen Lounge Chair

The Mr Olsen armchair was originally designed in 1958 by the architect Hans Olsen. The armchair was a part of the 800 range and is the architect's personal take on the classic armchair. The Mr Olsen armchair is characterised by its refined appearance. Hans Olsen was trained in the tradition of Kaare Klint, but managed to unfetter himself and invest Mr Olsen with personality and finesse. The armchair is both slender and organic with a lightness that is unusual by comparison with other design classics of the period.

The armchair is available both in a classic leather version and a textile version in a variation of fabrics, including velvet.
