Dear YCCM Patron,

There is no question that these times test the strength and resolve of our neighborhoods, our community, and our nations. This pandemic has stretched and frayed the very fabric that has otherwise held us together in historically difficult times. Not only does it threaten our physical health, it also highlights those who are vulnerable and in need, and sheds light on disparities in marginalized communities. But above all, the separation and isolation created by the pandemic brings to the fore a resource that we all need to feed and cultivate: Community.

Speaking for myself, I want to hear people sing without masks or microphones on a computer. I want to sit in a concert hall and hear gorgeous music with a few hundred friends. There is a genuine ache for this togetherness.

Before I move on from that pain to a solution and find “normal” again, I want to take stock of what that pain represents. At the heart the matter is this kernel of self-evident truth: I need you. We need you. You need us. We need us. Community.

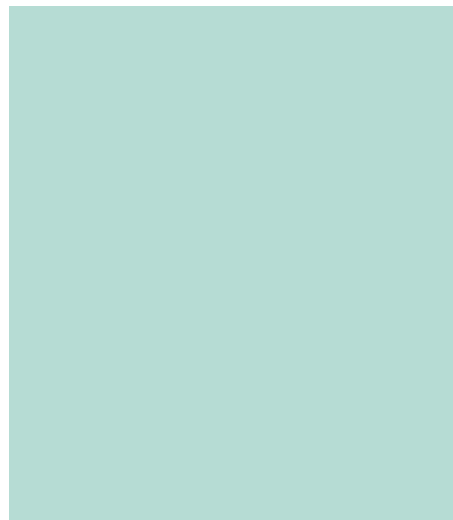

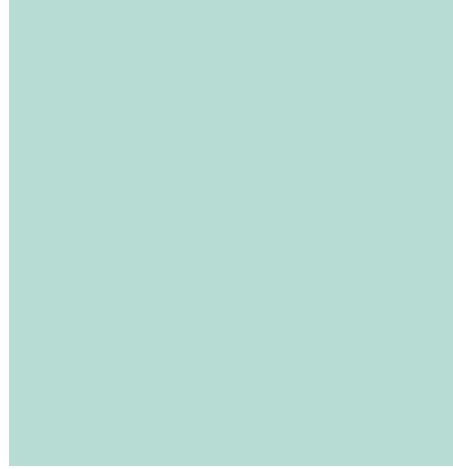

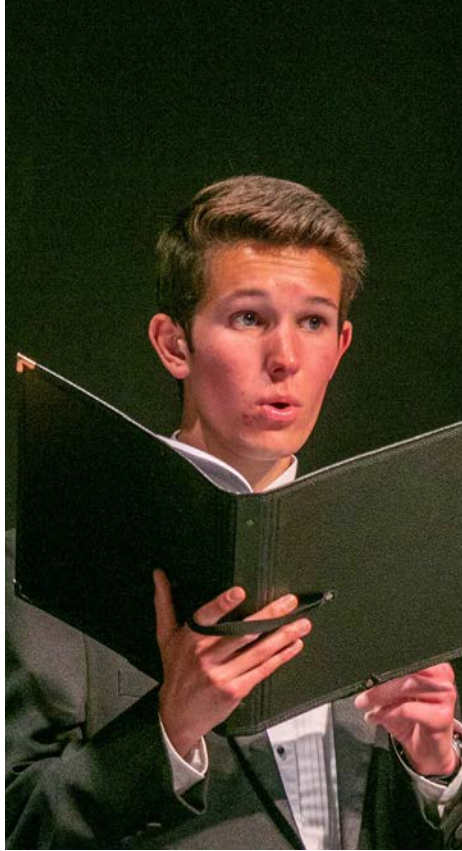

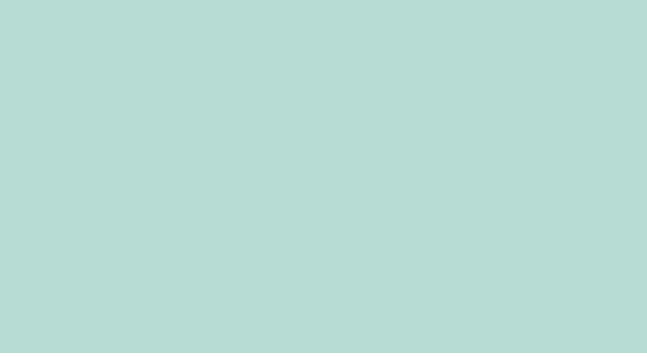

In most natural disasters it is easy to see where the heroes are. The ones clearing debris, fighting fires, keeping harm at bay. Even the obvious heroes of our frontline healthcare workers are isolated from us, and often their own families, to keep us safe. But there is another type of hidden hero in this pandemic...those that are reaching, striving, and building community.

I would propose to you that the singers in this book are those such heroes. They have found creative ways to build community. While we may not understand all of their methods (ahem... TikTok, Among Us), they have creatively found ways of staying connected with each other. Online Prom. Friendsgiving over Zoom. Reintroducing family game night. They have had to adapt to a crisis that has robbed from them much of what defined our youth. Time together in community.

One of the most significant ways they have kept community is through singing. They have been a part of the transformation of a nearly 2,000 year old artform - singing in a chorus. I assure you that none of them joined choir to sing their individual part into a computer screen to be stitched together into a beautiful, but inadequate representation of choral music. But they did it anyway. They pushed aside self-interest to give back to something that means a lot to them... singing in community.

While all of our voices come from different backgrounds and perspectives, I believe we can agree and join our voices in unison to hope that these times will bring us together in community. We all wish for them a future where they take the skills they've earned through this trying time to make this world a better place. We at YCCM are honored to be a part of their path, and heartened by their efforts to work with us to present this unique season of the Youth Chorale of Central Minnesota.

She is responsible for the overall administration and day-to-day management of the Youth Chorale including operations and fiscal management, communications, development, and grant writing. Prior to joining the YCCM staff, Ms. Erickson was a YCCM parent for over 10 years, as well as serving on the Board of Directors. An active member of the Central Minnesota community, she has volunteered with GREAT Theater, St. Cloud schools, and many other local non-profit organizations. Currently an "empty nester" living in St. Cloud, she loves theater, travel, and sports. She especially enjoys visiting her four adult daughters who live in Malawi, Africa; New York City, NY; and Orlando, FL.

Holly Lathe, Associate Artistic Director

Con Brio Conductor

Holly Ann Lathe is in her fourth season with The Youth Chorale Of Central Minnesota as Con Brio Conductor and Associate Artistic Director. Holly Ann Lathe earned her undergraduate degree from the University of Wisconsin-Superior and has completed her Master's coursework through St. Cloud State University. Mrs. Lathe is a Regional Arts Teacher Leader through the Perpich Center for the Arts and is currently employed at Pine Meadow Primary School in Sartell, MN, where she serves as Elementary Content Specialist and teaches music to students in grades 1-2. Her love for learning prompts her to regularly host university students in observation, practicum, and student teaching experiences. Mrs. Lathe is active in local theater as an actor, music director, and rehearsal accompanist. In addition, she has served as Artistic Director with the St. Cloud State University Cantabile Girls' Choir and worked for St. John's Boys' Choir, leading the inaugural "Sing In The Summer" camp for girls. Outside of her professional interests, Mrs. Lathe enjoys cooking, gardening, and reading. She resides in Sartell with her husband, Garrett Lathe, their four children, and their dog.

Susan Hill, Cantanti Accompanist

Susan Hill has been the accompanist for the Youth Chorale of Central Minnesota since its inception. She loves choral music and has accompanied numerous choirs in the St. Cloud area including Apollo and Tech High Schools, St. Cloud State Concert and Women's choirs, Great River Chorale, Minnesota Center Chorale and Cantabile Girls' Choir as well as competitions and recitals for vocal studios. She has a Bachelor's degree in Music from Brigham Young University. Susan and her husband have three grown daughters and made up the Hill Family Singers when the girls were young. In addition, she is a Licensed Psychologist and functions as Clinical Supervisor of the Catholic Charities Intensive Outpatient Day Treatment as well as having a private psychological practice.

Denise Bernard, Con Brio Accompanist

Denise Bernard was born and raised in Connecticut. She studied piano at the Hartt School of Music in West Hartford, CT and received her BS in Music Education. Denise spent her musical career doing a variety of things including teaching K-8 music, serving as a church organist, pianist, choir director and hand bell choir director, managing her own piano studio, and accompanying choirs and musicals. Denise currently teaches K-6 general music at Swanville Elementary. She also serves as organist/pianist at St. John's Episcopal Church and teaches piano at her home studio. For fun, she loves to quilt, create with fabric, work in paper arts, and travel. Denise lives in Rice with her husband, Chris, and enjoys the company of her two grown children and expanding family, including her grandsons, Spencer and Silas.

Cynthia Hogenson, Volunteer Coordinator/Office Assistant

Music Intern

Cynthia Hogenson is in her sixth season with YCCM as Volunteer Coordinator/Office Assistant, where she is responsible for coordinating parent volunteers, providing logistical programming support, and assisting with all YCCM-sponsored events. She is a graduate of the College of St. Benedict with a B.A. in vocal performance. This year Cynthia has taken on an additional role as Music Intern while she finishes her final year at St. Cloud State University for a second bachelor's degree in K-12 vocal music education. In addition to her work with YCCM Cynthia teaches private voice lessons from her home and is the Bell Choir director at Sacred Heart Parish in Sauk Rapids. Cynthia has a love for the arts and enjoys working for an organization that is committed to fostering that same love in young people and the community. She lives in Sauk Rapids with her husband, Erik, and their four young children.

Brenda Wright, Wardrobe Manager

Brenda Wright is in her third season with YCCM as the wardrobe manager where she is responsible for fitting and maintaining clothing for all singers. With over 40 years of sewing experience, she has been involved with costuming for the MN State Fair 4-H Arts In, Sauk Rapids-Rice High School, and St. Cloud's GREAT Theatre. Brenda's passion for creativity has flourished through 4-H, her mom's craft room, theatre experiences (both on stage and behind the scenes) and her 30+ years as creative talent for the Coborn's, Inc. Marketing Department. Brenda enjoys anything to do with art, theatre, sewing, photography and food! She also loves to travel with her husband, Tim, and enjoys spending time with their 3 children and 2 grandchildren.

Maria Schneider, Music Intern

Maria Schneider is a junior choral music education major at the College of Saint Benedict. She is heavily involved in the music department at school, taking part in chamber choir and opera workshop, as well as being a member of the crew team and walking club. Maria entered college as a theatre major, but soon discovered that music was her passion. In her free time, Maria writes her own music, bakes, and watches movies with friends. She hopes to teach elementary music in a city somewhere and hopefully move to New York City someday.

Alyssa Wedin, Music Intern

Alyssa Wedin is currently a junior at the College of Saint Benedict, and is a music major with concentrations in choral education and vocal performance. Alyssa is the VP of the Chamber Choir at CSB/SJU, and she is heavily involved in the music department as a student worker. Outside of music, Alyssa loves to be outside. In the summer, Alyssa's favorite activities are hiking and kayaking, and in the winter she loves to downhill ski. After graduation, Alyssa hopes to get a Fulbright grant to teach abroad for a year, and then have her own music classroom.

Where credit is due ...

YCCM was founded in the spirit of collaboration and community. It is because of the dedicated work of Central Minnesota Music Educators that YCCM can exist. Every successful performance from each ensemble is not just the result of the hard work of YCCM directors and singers, but also a product of elementary music classrooms, middle school and high school choirs, and the St. John's Boys' Choir and the St. Cloud State University Cantabile Girls' Choir.

The high school choral programs around Central Minnesota not only bring high quality music education to hundreds of singers, but also take time out of their schedules to prepare them for contests, honors choirs, and promote YCCM to their singers. Their tireless advocacy for their students, and their efforts of going above and beyond, have an indelible influence on our community.

It is on this firm foundation that YCCM is able to succeed, and we in return would like to honor the success of area high school choirs. It is our hope that YCCM singers bring back to their high school choirs a deeper understanding of music, a contagious passion for singing, and a humble sense of leadership that adds not only to their choir, but also to the school culture.

Thank you, Music Educators, for the work that you do every single day for Central Minnesota singers. Special thanks to the following choir directors for the quality education provided for our 2020-21 singers:

2020-2021 Commissioned Composer

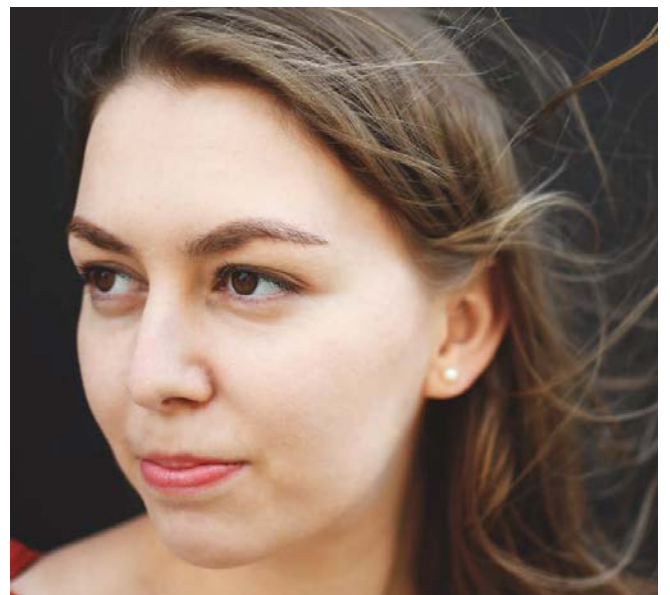

Katerina Gimon Named as one of Canada's "hot 30 classical musicians under 30" by the Canadian Broadcasting Company; composer, improviser, and vocalist Katerina Gimon's uniquely dynamic, poignant, and eclectic compositional style is rapidly gaining her a reputation as one of the most distinctive emerging voices in contemporary Canadian composition and beyond. Katerina's music has been described as "sheer radiance" (Campbell River Mirror), "imbued...with human emotion" (San Diego Story), and capable of taking listeners on a "fascinating journey of textural discovery" (Ludwig Van). Her music draws inspiration from a myriad of influences – from Eastern European folk music to indie rock, as well as from her roots as a songwriter. Katerina's works have been performed across Canada, the United States, Europe, Asia, and Oceania at prominent events such as ACDA Conferences, Choral Canada's Podium Conferences, Let the Peoples Sing Euroradio Choral Competition Finals, as well as at renowned venues such as Carnegie Hall, Orpheum Theatre, and the Hong Kong Cultural Centre. Recent commissions include new music for the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra, the University of Montana, the Hamilton Children's Choir, and the Orpheus Choir of Toronto. Katerina is currently the composer-in-residence for female vocal ensemble Myriad as well as the Canadian

Remote work session with the composer

Men's Chorus and is primarily based in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada. As a vocalist, Katerina performs as part of dynamic new music and AR/VR collective Chroma Mixed Media of which she is a founding member (vocals, electronics, composer) alongside multi-media artists David Storen and Brian Topp. Excited by the ever-evolving landscape of technology in today's society, Chroma endeavours to explore new avenues and intersections for artistic expression by combining various art forms and new technologies in order to invite and challenge audiences expectations. Katerina holds a Master of Music in Composition from the University of British Columbia ('17) and an Honours Bachelor of Music degree in Composition and Improvisation from Wilfrid Laurier University ('15). She has studied composition under Dorothy Chang, Keith Hamel, Stephen Chatman, Linda Catlin Smith, and Glenn Buhr; and voice under Vicki St. Pierre, James Westman, and Brian McIntosh. Katerina serves on the BC Advisory Council for the Canadian Music Centre.
