

Mo Khan

Secretary, Executive Committee (joined 2023)

Mo Khan (he/him) is an Organizational Psychologist and current Secretary of the New York Center. He graduated from the Social-Organizational Psychology MA program at Teachers College, Columbia University in 2023. During his time at TC, Mo served as Vice President of the Organization & Human Development Consulting Club (OHDCC), co-creating the organization's inaugural DEIA pillar, as well as a Researcher in the Dynamical Conservations Lab with Dr. Peter Coleman. In the midst of his graduate career, he also served as a DE&I Visiting Scholar at the Tavistock Institute of Human Relations in London, United Kingdom.

Outside of his academic roles, Mo has held a variety of People and Organizational Development roles across large-scale organizations. He currently works as a Global Project Manager of People Operations at Brainlabs, a digital marketing agency in New York City. In his free time, Mo enjoys composing and performing music as well as volunteering with non-profits focused on QTPOC health and wellbeing.