Report: Highest Paid Employees

Sort by:

Defined Benefit Plan Contribution: A portion of the total contribution paid by the employer towards the defined benefit plan for the year, which sometimes includes payment toward the unfunded liability. The defined benefit plan contribution is paid directly to the employer sponsored retirement plan and is not employee compensation for the calendar year. The amount of retirement benefits paid to an employee upon retirement are determined using a formula, based in part on an employee's age at retirement, final average salary, and length of service.
