

NextStep's Training-to-Placement Nursing Assistant Program Is the Solution to the Caregiver Crisis

We live in an era when millions of people are losing their jobs to artificial intelligence and automation. At the same time, our country is facing a dire shortage of Certified Nursing Assistants to care for a rapidly growing older population.

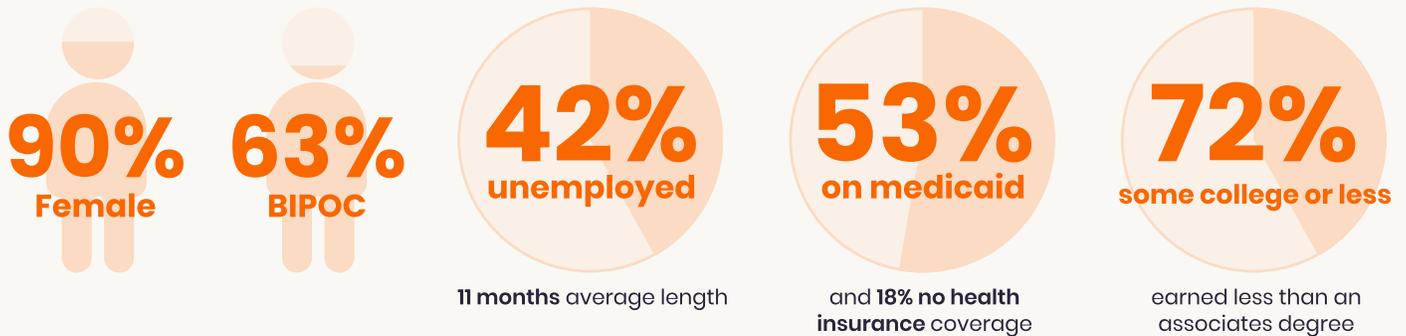

NextStep provides the solution to both problems – a blended-learning, training-to-placement Nursing Assistant program available tuition free that guarantees a job offer after certification.

“ I'm proud that Colorado is taking the lead in finding creative ways to ensure CNA students receive the education and training they need.”
