

THE VALUE OF SELECTNET[®]

Designated medical providers are responsible for determining causality and maximum medical improvement. Therefore, communication and a strong relationship with your providers are crucial to your injured worker's successful recovery and continued good health. SelectNet contracted providers understand Colorado's unique workers' compensation rules, processes and legal requirements. They are continually evaluated for their expertise and commitment to compassionate, quality care for injured workers. Network providers also agree to accept a discount off of the Division of Workers' Compensation fee schedule to help contain medical costs.

EFFICIENT

SelectNet providers encourage the responsible use of healthcare services, and primary care providers manage each case from beginning to end, including all referrals. On average, claims managed by SelectNet providers resolve three weeks faster than those managed by out-of-network providers.

COST-EFFECTIVE

Average claims costs for cases managed by SelectNet providers are $2,672 less than those of out-of-network providers, and injured workers have, on average, eight fewer days of temporary total disability. Network providers are able to work hand in hand with Pinnacol's return-to-work consultants to provide compassionate care and have employees back at work as soon as is medically reasonable.

EXPERIENCED

SelectNet providers specialize in treating occupational injuries and illnesses. They have extensive knowledge about the Colorado Medical Treatment Guidelines, and providers are individually assessed to ensure they are providing quality care and service.

QUALIFIED

SelectNet providers receive training through Pinnacol's Workers' Compensation Basics course or accreditation through the Colorado Division of Workers' Compensation. Prescribing providers have completed opioid management training as part of their participation requirements. Pinnacol monitors contracted providers for their expertise and demonstrated commitment to quality care for injured workers. SelectNet physicians are board-certified and Pinnacol's credentialing partners ensure that they have no medical license restrictions or concerning history of malpractice.

COMMITTED

SelectNet providers are contractually held to high participation standards. Network standards help minimize wait times, maximize appointment availability, and enable quick access to records and detailed progress reports.

COMPREHENSIVE

The network includes everyone needed to help injured workers heal and regain as much function as possible. Designated medical providers manage referrals to network specialists and therapists as well as interpreters, transportation and home support services.

THE STATEWIDE NETWORK

SelectNet[®] is Pinnacol's integrated preferred provider network encompassing primary, specialty and ancillary medical services. Founded in 1996, the network has more than 3,600 contracted Colorado physicians, therapists, rehabilitation service providers, behavioral medical providers, laboratories, imaging centers, facilities and vendors for interpretation, transportation and home support services. Policyholders are encouraged to designate primary care physicians from the SelectNet network to care for their injured workers.
