

Bhadmus Olaide

12. May 2020

LOYALTY

Bhadmus changed jobs or projects on an interval of 1.5 years, before his current position that he has held for 3 years.

REMOTE FIT

Bhadmus has worked remotely for 3 years in his current position. He has a great home office setup, with a good microphone and camera, with a strong internet connection from his residence in Lagos, Nigeria.

FLEXIBILITY

Currently, Bhadmus enjoys success in his role as a customer success team leader but has held roles in a multitude of fields. He also has worked in different fields as a manager and shows that he is flexible to step into many roles and learn the skills necessary to succeed in them.

GROWTH MINDSET

He is educated in computer science and has a varied background in many fields. He holds a certificate in adobe photoshop which he did out of self-interest. He also holds many other certificates such as in HTML & CSS and leadership. He shows interest in learning what is needed when he steps into a role, but also likes to learn new things in general.

CV/ONLINE PROFILES

His LinkedIn profile contains all his professional experiences and provides a great and comprehensive overview of his background. It is clean and organized the same his evident with his CV.

VOLUNTEERING

Bhadmus has not indicated any volunteer work in particular.

RECOMMENDATION

Bhadmus would be a great fit in a remote team and especially as a leader. He is currently leading a remote team and has done so for the last 2 years.

His skill set is varied so he could contribute to different stages of a business. In a startup that is setting up a customer service team, Bhadmus would be a great asset as he comes with his customer success experience as well as his technical computer science background.

---

Report by Paul Arnesen