

Jacob Morehead

19. May 2020

LOYALTY

Jacob has held positions for more than 4 years. On average he stays for longer periods of time when he is employed.

REMOTE FIT

Jacob is an Australian living in the US. His home office is professional and he is ready for any projects remotely today. In his last position, he was leading a remote team of 4.

FLEXIBILITY

Jacob's background is finance, and he has stayed in the finance industry throughout his career. He has held roles such as consultant, specialist, executive compliance, and prevention analyst.

GROWTH MINDSET

Jacob recently finished a course in SQL to add to his portfolio of skills. As he has moved within different roles in his career he has always needed to stay on top of his professional growth. He understands and knows the financial markets well as it is a passion to keep himself updated at all times.

CV/ONLINE PROFILES

His LinkedIn profile is detailed and includes a high level of detail in terms of his background. His CV is comprehensive with a lot of information about his tasks and duties in the jobs he has held in his professional life.

VOLUNTEERING

Jacob has not indicated any voluntary work.

OUR FEEDBACK

Jacob is a professional with a long background in the financial services industry. He is looking for opportunities worldwide, but he holds a US work visa so he is able to go into a role easily for a US-based company.

He is a specialist in fraud and compliance, and has a big interest in the fintech industry.

He could be considered for a role as a project manager for a remote fintech company, especially a company that is established in the industry already, but an early startup in the financial industry could also benefit from Jacob's skills.

---

Report by Paul Arnesen