

Gonzalo Mazzoni

10. June 2020

LOYALTY

Gonzalo averages around 2 years in his employment past.

REMOTE FIT

Gonzalo is fluent in English and is a proficient digital nomad that knows how to set up and work from anywhere in the world. He`s been working remotely for the last 3 years.

FLEXIBILITY

He is a professional marketing specialist, with an educational background from advertising and public relations. In his previous roles, he has worked as an assistant, a coordinator, a media buyer, and an executive.

GROWTH MINDSET

Gonzalo has studied marketing alongside his remote work and finished his last degree in 2020. He loves to learn everything about his professional field and is constantly trying to learn more and gain more skills online and by being hands-on with his newly acquired abilities.

CV/ONLINE PROFILES

His LinkedIn gives you a good impression of his background and experience. It is structured and contains valuable information. His CV is complete and orderly.

VOLUNTEERING

Gonzalo has not indicated any volunteer work experience.

OUR FEEDBACK

Gonzalo loves the world of marketing and has a deep passion and understanding of it.

His educational background from advertising and public relations makes him a different type of marketer. He understands the concept better than others that have no formal marketing background.

This and his knowledge of work on the road and worldwide make him a great fit in any marketing team. He is especially passionate about media buying and planning, thus any business dealing with this should consider Gonzalo.

Report by Paul Arnesen