

Alexanders Malchevskis

12. June 2020

LOYALTY

Alexanders has been working freelance for the last 5 years. Prior to his freelance career, he averaged around 2,5 years in his jobs.

REMOTE FIT

Being freelance for 5 years put Alexanders in a great position for being your next remote hire. He has a professional home office setup, speaks fluent English, and is a good communicator.

FLEXIBILITY

Alexanders has experience working in the banking industry. For years he was working as an anti-money laundering specialist, then as a project manager in another. He has the flexibility to move his skillset over different facets.

GROWTH MINDSET

He holds an MBA and several other degrees. He is a highly accomplished learner and is constantly upgrading his skills through various certifications, such as Scrum Master and Lean Six Sigma.

CV/ONLINE PROFILES

His LinkedIn is very professional and shows someone who cares about structure. He has a lot of achievements and he presents them well. His CV is equally professional and tidy.

VOLUNTEERING

Alexanders have been working on many volunteer projects. One of them is for the UN as an international volunteer.

OUR FEEDBACK

Dr. Alexanders Malchevskis is a highly professional consultant. He has a long quality educational background as well as relevant and impressive work experience.

His background from fintech, financial sector, and banking means that he would be a valuable asset to companies operating that area.

He brings with him years of experience and will be able to see through any difficulties you might have. He is a great remote project manager but is also willing to relocate if needed.

---

Report by Paul Arnesen