

Mattias Kjellsson

15. June 2020

LOYALTY

Mattias has worked remotely for the last 3 years. In his previous jobs, he has one that lasted more than 6 years. Other than that he enjoys projects of 6-12 months.

REMOTE FIT

Mattias is from Sweden, but lives and works in Jakarta, Indonesia. He has a professional setup from his apartment there. He speaks excellent English and is a great communicator over video calls.

FLEXIBILITY

He has worked in different roles, from research assistant to program manager. As a software developer, he has the flexibility to work on most projects with his skills, background, and experience. He is originally an educated electrical engineer.

GROWTH MINDSET

His profession means he always needs to stay on top of it. He is a fast learner and the moment something new or interesting crosses his radar he will do what is necessary to learn it.

CV/ONLINE PROFILES

His LinkedIn profile is ok and to the point. It comes across as clean and minimalistic. His CV is very professional and shows structure and dedication.

VOLUNTEERING

Mattias has not indicated any volunteer experiences.

OUR FEEDBACK

Mattias is a structured and organized software developer. He brings his nordic vision of work mentality with him in all aspects and makes him an effective team leader.

Mattias works well on smaller projects, but his background and experience mean he is well adapted to work on bigger projects.

His management experience is very valuable if you want to get someone on board to run your remote development team.

Report by Paul Arnesen