

Shirish Khedkar

19. June 2020

LOYALTY

Shirish has been a professional since 2001. He has held some positions for several years and worked on short term projects.

REMOTE FIT

Shirish is from India but works remotely from his home in Paris, France. He is an excellent communicator in video calls.

FLEXIBILITY

He has been able to use his marketing skills and background in many different roles over the years. He has worked in many sectors, most notably he has been a business banking manager for more than 8 years where he was in charge of brand development and marketing.

GROWTH MINDSET

Shirish took an MBA in 2019 in marketing. He is constantly keeping himself up to date on the latest trends in marketing. He loves to test and try new techniques when he comes across them.

CV/ONLINE PROFILES

His LinkedIn profile is good, he has some very good references to support his background and experience. He has a professional and well-edited CV.

VOLUNTEERING

Shirish has volunteered for EU Start-ups as a coordinator.

OUR FEEDBACK

Shirish is an all-round marketing professional that comes with an interesting background.

His drive for business development and his understanding and experience from digital marketing puts him in a position to be a valuable asset in a start-up or in an organization that is looking to grow.

He can fit well into any remote team, either as a remote team leader or a team member.

Report by Paul Arnesen