Don't Miss

Four-lane affect Thakur, protest land acquisition relief rate

Minister for Forest and Youth Affairs Rakesh Pathania has recently expressed his solidarity with the Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected residents led by the Four-Lane Sangarsh Samiti, which has been running from pillar to post seeking fair compensation.

The Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected people have started a campaign for fair compensation on March 1. Here is what they have done...

- The four-lane project-affected people demanded that the compensation paid for the four-lane project should be increased by at least 300%.
- The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.
- The compensation paid to Mandi was only 30% of the four-lane project.

The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.

Minister for Forest and Youth Affairs Rakesh Pathania has recently expressed his solidarity with the Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected residents led by the Four-Lane Sangarsh Samiti, which has been running from pillar to post seeking fair compensation.

The Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected people have started a campaign for fair compensation on March 1. Here is what they have done...

- The four-lane project-affected people demanded that the compensation paid for the four-lane project should be increased by at least 300%.
- The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.
- The compensation paid to Mandi was only 30% of the four-lane project.

The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.

Minister for Forest and Youth Affairs Rakesh Pathania has recently expressed his solidarity with the Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected residents led by the Four-Lane Sangarsh Samiti, which has been running from pillar to post seeking fair compensation.

The Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected people have started a campaign for fair compensation on March 1. Here is what they have done...

- The four-lane project-affected people demanded that the compensation paid for the four-lane project should be increased by at least 300%.
- The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.
- The compensation paid to Mandi was only 30% of the four-lane project.

The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.

Minister for Forest and Youth Affairs Rakesh Pathania has recently expressed his solidarity with the Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected residents led by the Four-Lane Sangarsh Samiti, which has been running from pillar to post seeking fair compensation.

The Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected people have started a campaign for fair compensation on March 1. Here is what they have done...

- The four-lane project-affected people demanded that the compensation paid for the four-lane project should be increased by at least 300%.
- The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.
- The compensation paid to Mandi was only 30% of the four-lane project.

The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.

Minister for Forest and Youth Affairs Rakesh Pathania has recently expressed his solidarity with the Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected residents led by the Four-Lane Sangarsh Samiti, which has been running from pillar to post seeking fair compensation.

The Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected people have started a campaign for fair compensation on March 1. Here is what they have done...

- The four-lane project-affected people demanded that the compensation paid for the four-lane project should be increased by at least 300%.
- The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.
- The compensation paid to Mandi was only 30% of the four-lane project.

The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.

Minister for Forest and Youth Affairs Rakesh Pathania has recently expressed his solidarity with the Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected residents led by the Four-Lane Sangarsh Samiti, which has been running from pillar to post seeking fair compensation.

The Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected people have started a campaign for fair compensation on March 1. Here is what they have done...

- The four-lane project-affected people demanded that the compensation paid for the four-lane project should be increased by at least 300%.
- The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.
- The compensation paid to Mandi was only 30% of the four-lane project.

The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.

Minister for Forest and Youth Affairs Rakesh Pathania has recently expressed his solidarity with the Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected residents led by the Four-Lane Sangarsh Samiti, which has been running from pillar to post seeking fair compensation.

The Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected people have started a campaign for fair compensation on March 1. Here is what they have done...

- The four-lane project-affected people demanded that the compensation paid for the four-lane project should be increased by at least 300%.
- The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.
- The compensation paid to Mandi was only 30% of the four-lane project.

The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.

Minister for Forest and Youth Affairs Rakesh Pathania has recently expressed his solidarity with the Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected residents led by the Four-Lane Sangarsh Samiti, which has been running from pillar to post seeking fair compensation.

The Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected people have started a campaign for fair compensation on March 1. Here is what they have done...

- The four-lane project-affected people demanded that the compensation paid for the four-lane project should be increased by at least 300%.
- The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.
- The compensation paid to Mandi was only 30% of the four-lane project.

The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.

Minister for Forest and Youth Affairs Rakesh Pathania has recently expressed his solidarity with the Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected residents led by the Four-Lane Sangarsh Samiti, which has been running from pillar to post seeking fair compensation.

The Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected people have started a campaign for fair compensation on March 1. Here is what they have done...

- The four-lane project-affected people demanded that the compensation paid for the four-lane project should be increased by at least 300%.
- The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.
- The compensation paid to Mandi was only 30% of the four-lane project.

The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.

Minister for Forest and Youth Affairs Rakesh Pathania has recently expressed his solidarity with the Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected residents led by the Four-Lane Sangarsh Samiti, which has been running from pillar to post seeking fair compensation.

The Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected people have started a campaign for fair compensation on March 1. Here is what they have done...

- The four-lane project-affected people demanded that the compensation paid for the four-lane project should be increased by at least 300%.
- The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.
- The compensation paid to Mandi was only 30% of the four-lane project.

The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.

Minister for Forest and Youth Affairs Rakesh Pathania has recently expressed his solidarity with the Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected residents led by the Four-Lane Sangarsh Samiti, which has been running from pillar to post seeking fair compensation.

The Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected people have started a campaign for fair compensation on March 1. Here is what they have done...

- The four-lane project-affected people demanded that the compensation paid for the four-lane project should be increased by at least 300%.
- The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.
- The compensation paid to Mandi was only 30% of the four-lane project.

The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.

Minister for Forest and Youth Affairs Rakesh Pathania has recently expressed his solidarity with the Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected residents led by the Four-Lane Sangarsh Samiti, which has been running from pillar to post seeking fair compensation.

The Pathankot-Mandi four-lane project-affected people have started a campaign for fair compensation on March 1. Here is what they have done...

- The four-lane project-affected people demanded that the compensation paid for the four-lane project should be increased by at least 300%.
- The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.
- The compensation paid to Mandi was only 30% of the four-lane project.

The project affected 3,000 residents in Mandi for which no compensation was paid.