What is Non - Potable Water ?

Non-potable water differs from potable water in the way that it is not appropriate for human consumption.

Although non potable water is not suitable for drinking it has a wide variety of uses that are essential in our everyday lives from plumbing to gardening applications.

The water we deliver is clean and comes direct from the mains water supply but the tanks and pipework used to transport and deliver it are not to Drinking water specification.

For that reason you should ensure that any access points to the water provided is labeled accordingly.
