Carbs are your body's primary source of energy and if you get the right kind of carbs at the right time, your energy level will stay high (infinitely high, in fact). Your body can only store a limited amount of carbs (Glycogen), so you need to replenish it frequently (especially after exercise) or your body will steal from your muscles to maintain metabolic function. Adding Get Energized to your favorite shake is a great way to give your body the right carbs at the right time.

Get Energized is made up from a combination of nature's best energy foods including, Eleuthero Root & Kola Nut which enhance mental & physical performance, and reduce fatigue and stress. Gingko Biloba enhances blood circulation, and Gotu Kola energizes the central nervous system & rebuilds energy reserves. White Willow Bark works to reduce pain & inflammation, while Bee Pollen provides antioxidants to boost immunity and keep you energized throughout the day.
