

Patterns

In this activity you will create patterns using your favorite snack foods.

What you will need

Lots and Lots of Zebra Stripes: Patterns in Nature, by Stephen Swinburne

5 bowls

Pretzels, marshmallows, goldfish crackers, Teddy Graham cookies

Paper plate

What you will do

1. Read the book Lots and Lots of Zebra Stripes: Patterns in Nature, by Stephen Swinburne
2. After reading the book you will help your child create a pattern using some of their favorite snack foods.
3. After creating patterns with the snack foods, eat and enjoy.

Learn More Together

Patterns are everywhere. After reading the book, discuss with your child patterns they observe. When you are out point of patterns you see in nature, in their clothing and in their toys. You can also help your child create more complex patterns.
