55 Marietta Street NW, Atlanta, GA 30303

CoreSite's AT1 data center is strategically located in the heart of downtown Atlanta and serves as a vital hub for businesses to deploy their IT infrastructure. As one of the fastest-growing data center markets with the third-largest concentration of Fortune 500 companies in the U.S., Atlanta features tech-savvy organizations that look to CoreSite to help them future-proof their businesses.

The AT1 data center campus is highly scalable and operates as an integral part of the broader data center ecosystem within CoreSite, an American Tower Company. With a long-standing track record of operational experience, the AT1 team offers the technical, security, remote hands and customer service expertise organizations rely on to meet their mission-critical needs. This 62,000-square-foot modern data center space offers low-latency, redundant and secure colocation services to businesses of all sizes to dynamically scale their hybrid IT.
