credentially

Ultimate CQC Checklist

3 Reasons Providers Fail CQC Inspections

1 "No system to ensure all staff have full pre-employment checks completed"

2 "Failure to deploy adequate numbers of suitably qualified staff"

3 "No system in place to review and communicate role-specific training or policies to staff"

Are you CQC ready?

	Yes	No
Do you think there is there a link between staffing and the ability to deliver safe, effective services?	☐	☐
Do you have any digital tools, such as online staff management, that can help get the right people on duty at the right time?	☐	☐
Can you automate key aspects of employee onboarding to ensure the right mix of skills is available within your teams?	☐	☐
Can you evidence documents, DBS checks, right to work checks, certifications, training records, policies and reporting for CQC inspectors?	☐	☐
Is all your documentation regularly kept up to date?	☐	☐
Do your staff understand their responsibilities and how well can they link their work back to current guidelines and best practices?	☐	☐
Can you evidence that policies are communicated to staff and they are read and understood?	☐	☐
Do you have a digital document management system in place to 'send and sign' new or amended policies or documents to staff?	☐	☐
Do you record staff training and development that you can show CQC inspectors?	☐	☐
Can you provide clear evidence of how you are developing and improving your services?	☐	☐

What are your next steps? Find out below

Take Action

More than 5 no's?

If you answered 'no' to any of the questions then you need onboarding and credentialing software to help you get CQC compliant.

Click here to read how

Between 3-5 no's?

If you answered a mix of 'yes' and 'no' then you need to improve compliance in time for your CQC inspection.

How to improve compliance

Less than 2 no's?

It sounds like you've got a grip on things, but did you know you can automate compliance and credentialing to further improve processes and impress CQC?

How to impress CQC