

CORONAVIRUS MANUAL FOR OTHER STATES

This manual (written on March 15, 2020) provides current information to the best of our knowledge. However, the coronavirus pandemic, government responses, and relevant laws and procedures are changing frequently. It is your responsibility to obtain current information and check relevant legal cases, codes, and regulations when using this manual.

We do not have specific information about how correctional facilities in your state are responding to the pandemic (or such information is separately attached). However, we can provide the following general advice.

How to Protect Yourself from Coronavirus While Incarcerated

Your top priority should be to protect yourself from coronavirus infection:

- Wash your hands with soap and water (for at least 20 seconds) or use hand sanitizer before eating or touching your face, eyes, or mouth and after touching surfaces frequently touched by others, like cell doors, counters, phones, and bathroom surfaces.
- Stay six feet away from anyone with flu-like symptoms if possible, especially if they are coughing or sneezing. If you come into contact with such a person, shower or wash your hands and face and change and launder your clothes.
- Every day, sanitize the surfaces in your cell with disinfectant. If possible, sanitize eating surfaces before eating.
- Do not share glasses, utensils, dishes, towels, bedding.

If you have flu-like symptoms:

- Report your symptoms to health services and ask for a coronavirus test.
- Cough or sneeze into tissue or your elbow.
- Stay away from groups. Jail officials should isolate you from others.
- Do not touch others.

If you have contact with anyone with flu-like symptoms:

- Report the contact to health services and ask for a coronavirus test, especially if you had prolonged contact, if the person coughed or sneezed, or if you had contact with the person's bodily fluids.
- Stay away from groups. Jail officials should quarantine you if you have been exposed to coronavirus.

If you are at high risk of complications from coronavirus because you are:

Pregnant

60 or Older

Medically Fragile (heart or lung disease, cancer, diabetes, HIV+, other immune diseases), in addition to the foregoing precautions, you may want to request release as described later in this manual.

How to Advocate for Proper Coronavirus Precautions in Your Facility:

All correctional facilities should:

- Provide adequate soap and disinfectant free to all incarcerated persons.
- Provide hand sanitizer when hand washing facilities are not available.
- Aggressively sanitize high-touch surfaces throughout the facility including phones, counters, tables, eating surfaces, doorknobs, faucets, and all bathroom surfaces. Bathrooms should be sanitized three times a day.
- Ensure adequate supply of coronavirus testing kits. Until kits are available, symptomatic people should be tested for influenza and, if they test negative, treated as presumptive coronavirus carriers.
- Promptly test people with flu-like symptoms for coronavirus.
- Isolate people with coronavirus from all others.
- Quarantine nonsymptomatic people exposed to coronavirus, separating them from non-exposed people.
- Publicly report anonymized testing results by facility.
- Screen incoming staff, contractors and volunteers for fever (taking temperatures) and other symptoms and for exposure to coronavirus, and exclude those with symptoms or exposure.
- Not unnecessarily penalize incarcerated people by locking down facilities or cancelling programming or visits as virus control measures when other measures are available. Visitors can all be screened for symptoms and directed to wash hands, and visiting areas can be thoroughly sanitized.
- If contact visits must be cancelled, no-contact visits should be permitted and all incarcerated persons should be given free access to phone or video visits as a temporary alternative to in-person visits.
- Reduce crowding by releasing pretrial detainees and incarcerated persons with lower-level convictions and/or with closer release dates.
- Release those at high risk of complications from a coronavirus infection to protect their health and lives.

You can help enforce these standards by filing internal grievances if you observe that these precautions are not being followed.

How to Seek Release if You are High Risk of Complications from Coronavirus:

You may want to complete the attached Petition for Release Due to Coronavirus Pandemic and submit it to prison officials and your state's governor, or jail officials and the local Public Defender and District Attorney. You may also want to ask your loved ones to write letters to their state and local elected representatives advocating for your release.

NOTE: This is not an official form. LSPC has created this form to help incarcerated people petition for release in the absence of any formal procedure. If the government establishes a form or mechanism to petition for release, you should resubmit your request on the official form.

Petition for Release Due to Coronavirus Pandemic

Legal Services for Prisoners with Children has created this form to help incarcerated people who are at high risk of complications from a coronavirus infection to petition for release in order to protect their lives and health. This is not an official form. If the government creates an official form or mechanism to request such relief, you should resubmit your request.
