Math readiness requirements for the full range of pathway degrees and certifications are pre-loaded in EdReady. You can customize each pathway to match the program of study offered by your institution.

Readiness

As students meet or exceed their target scores, you can direct them toward additional steps they may take on their journey to academic and personal success.

Knowledge Inventories

Customize each diagnostic to assess student math readiness and support programmatic needs for each pathway degree or certificate.

Resources

A personalized study path with topic-specific, media-rich learning resources will guide your students toward their goals. You can choose which curated resources your students will see.

Data Access

You can set permissions for live student data dashboards and downloads for teachers, administrators, and counselors.

HERE’S HOW IT WORKS:

Accelerating a student’s journey to degree or certificate completion is key to academic and life success — that’s why we created EdReady.

NROC.org
As a community-guided, nonprofit organization, NROC collaborates with educators to build content and tools that address the needs of the institutions we serve. NROC members and staff conducted a national survey of career and certificate programs, resulting in curricula-aligned, adaptable math readiness pathways. From self-directed placement and review, to co-requisite and multiple measures initiatives, EdReady pathways have limitless applications.

When your institution joins NROC, you receive access to a customized EdReady site with robust reporting capabilities. To learn more, contact us at membership@NROC.org.
