

“Why the GOP Lost the Midterm Elections”

“Morals and Markets” meets at 8PM Eastern on the fourth Tuesday of every month.

Add to your calendar! Tell your friends!

Course Information:

<https://www.atlassociety.org/events/student-event-morals-markets-presents-why-the-gop-lost-the-midterm-elections>

Upcoming Events:

<https://www.atlassociety.org/education/morals-and-markets>

Next Session: Tuesday, November 22nd from 8-9:30 ET

Meeting url: <https://atlassociety-org.zoom.us/j/6grzwuEt1f5ZGeL0AjrLVqENi7zwMB>

The GOP got more votes in recent House elections (50MM vs 44MM) but its widely expected “red wave” didn’t materialize. After two years of Democrat incompetence, corruption, and vice – with inflation at a 40-year high, no economic growth, rampant crime, border anarchy, civil liberty assaults, bans on fossil fuels, publicly-subsidized genital mutilation – Republicans won only a bare majority of House seats and have lost a seat in the Senate. Why? Poor GOP candidate quality? No. Election fraud? Not enough. Abortion issue? Possibly. But the simplest explanation might be the best: a majority of American voters prefer irrational, anti-capitalist policies.

Suggested Readings/Sources:

- “How Bad the 2022 Election was for the GOP, Historically Speaking,” Washington Post (2022.11.10).
- “Mid-Term Election Updates: Democrats Keep Control of the Senate,” Time (2022.11.12).
- “Democrats’ Triumph May Be Miraculous but U.S. is Still Split Down the Middle,” The Guardian (2022.11.13).

Host: Dr. Richard M. Salsman is a professor of political economy at Duke University, founder and president of InterMarket Forecasting, Inc., a senior fellow at the American Institute for Economic Research, and a senior scholar at The Atlas Society. In the 1980s and 1990s he was a banker at the Bank of New York and Citibank and an economist at Wainwright Economics, Inc. Dr. Salsman has authored three books: Breaking the Banks: Central Banking Problems and Free Banking Solutions (1990), Gold and Liberty (1995), and The Political Economy of Public Debt: Three Centuries of Theory and Evidence (2017). His most recent book, Where Have all the Capitalist Gone?, was published in 2021 by the American Institute for Economic Research. He is also author of a dozen chapters and scores of articles. His work has appeared in the Georgetown Journal of Law and Public Policy, Reason Papers, the Wall Street Journal, the New York Times, Forbes, the Economist, the Financial Post, the Intellectual Activist, and The Objective Standard. Dr. Salsman earned his B.A. in economics from Bowdoin College (1981), his M.A. in economics from New York University (1988), and his Ph.D. in political economy from Duke University (2012). His personal website is <https://richardsalsman.com/>.

“Why the GOP Lost the Midterm Elections”

THE ATLAS SOCIETY

— Morals and Markets —

Exploring the intersections between ethics, politics, economics, and markets

Dr. Richard M. Salsman

— Testimonials

"Morals & Markets provides students of all levels an opportunity to engage with some of the most interesting (and sometimes difficult!) issues in philosophy, politics, and economics. Professor Salsman's experience as an outstanding educator and commitment to presenting a holistic view of contemporary tensions between public policy and moral philosophy encourage vibrant debate and an unparalleled learning experience. I am enthusiastic about Dr. Salsman's future iterations of Morals & Markets with the support of The Atlas Society!"

- Nikhil Sridhar

"Dr. Salsman's lectures from Morals and Markets always leave me with a newfound framework to consider important ideas; they serve as some beacon of critical thinking in a world that needs it. The topics discussed are always fully engaging, both intellectually and practically and the discussion helps me orient my views of current political circumstances, historical trends, and political philosophy, more generally, in a rationally focused way. I hope Morals and Markets grows to become an institution – it certainly deserves to be one."

- Clifford Gilman Jr.

"Morals and Markets has been a spectacular learning experience for me. Professor Salsman's lectures and guided discussions have opened my eyes to alternative ways of viewing issues and generally strengthened my grasp of the intersections between philosophy, politics, and economics."

- Gaurav Sharma