

the mostly secular belief system of modern Japan

At the center is the belief that safety and security are most important.
The other four points (shown in ovals) should be thought of as aspects of the main one.
The basic problem with this humanistic worldview is that God and eternity are excluded at every point.