Distributor's notes

Young red wine made with organically grown, dry-farmed Monastrell grown on a mixture of sandy and clay soil, very rocky, low in organic matter with a high level of limestone. Fermented with its own native yeasts in stainless steel. Produced on the farm itself, something that is rather rare in this region of Spain typically filled with mass industrial farms. Ages less than a full year on the lees and then is bottled without the addition of additives, such as sulphites, clarifiers, selected yeasts, etc. 4,000 bottle production on average annually.
