ABOUT

George Wilmoth possesses a deep knowledge of tax law and is often called in to assist with the firm's most complex tax issues. In fact, he was recently named a Top 10 Public Accounting Professional for the state of Tennessee by the National Academy of Public Accounting Professionals (NAPAP). This is a prestigious honor that truly reflects his skill as a CPA.

George also oversees HHM Healthcare Advisory Services Group. He is adept at handling the unique needs of doctors and their practices. Medicine is a profession that has a wide range of regulations and billing requirements. Because of that, it is vital for its members to have an experienced CPA on their side. And HHM is the only CPA firm in Chattanooga that assists with every financial aspect that goes along with operating a healthcare practice. Whether a practice is large, medium or small, George assists with all its needs – from practice management to physician recruitment and compensation structuring.

His expertise comes from the nearly 15 years that he spent with 2 of the Big 4 accounting firms. During his time at KPMG, George worked with middle market clients in manufacturing, defense contracting, and high net worth families. While he was at Ernst & Young, he worked in international tax. He handled complex tax issues and assisted multi-national executives who were working abroad. He also assisted foreign nationals with taxes during their assignments to the United States.

George's greatest strength, however, lies in his genuine concern for each client and employee. "I work with the best team ever. They truly help drive what we do for each client," he says.

When he's not at work, you can find George at his home, spending time nurturing his daughter's cooking and artistic talents.
