Zach Hutcherson joined HHM CPAs in 2011. He has developed specialties dealing with businesses within a broad range of industries including manufacturing, nonprofit, and automotive dealerships. As a manager in the company's assurance department, he reviews and prepares financial statements, leads audits, and helps to train new staff.

Zach received his undergraduate degree in Accounting from the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga and received an academic scholarship to Samford University's Brock School of Business, where he earned master's degrees in both Business Administration and Accountancy.

During his time outside the firm, Zach enjoys cooking traditional southern BBQ dishes like ribs, brisket, and pulled pork, playing the guitar, and spending time with his wife and son.
