ABOUT

Tripp Graham brings six years of experience in financial services to HHM's audit and tax service departments. He strives for continuous improvement and innovation to deliver forward-thinking work to the clients he serves.

Prior to beginning as a staff accountant at HHM's Chattanooga office, Tripp worked at a Fortune 500 company in data analytics and project management. During that time, he honed his skills from the private sector, including data infrastructure management, SQL and VBA programming, and enterprise resource planning and budgeting. Tripp continuously reinvents his skill-set and is always thinking about tomorrow's business environment and how to position himself and the firm's clients for success.

Another cornerstone of Tripp's success is his ability to work as a part of a team and develop others' skills. He believes the best leaders elevate others.

On the weekend, Tripp can be found golfing, eating at new Chattanooga restaurants, and spending time with his son and daughter.
