ABOUT

Brad McClung joined HHM in 2017. He works as part of the growing Dealership Services Group. In his role as a senior accountant in the Chattanooga office, he provides both audit and tax services for his clients.

While Brad was pursuing an accounting degree at his alma mater, Lee University, he tutored students in the accounting lab. Paired with his strong work ethic, Brad is dedicated to his work. He has the ability to zone in and focus on tasks until they're fully completed.

When he's not diligently working at the office, you'll find Brad being active. Whether he's fishing, playing basketball, or learning new sports, he tries to be outside as much as possible.
