

FRANCESCA MORGAN

BA (H) FASHION DESIGN

I am a final year fashion design student and over the last three years I have been on a journey learning how I can help drive the shift from a destructive to regenerative & circular fashion system. My dissertation and final collection both explored the environmental and psychological impacts of the fast fashion industry which has allowed me to develop my work in a constructive and environmentally conscious way. I am looking to build my career in a business that values people and planet and hope to put my creativity to work in driving positive societal change.
