Color Coded Labs Hiring Partnership Agreement

This non-binding agreement identifies _____ as an official Hiring Partner of Color Coded Labs. Color Coded Labs is a 19-week technology skills bootcamp targeting underserved and historically marginalized communities with the skills needed to enable underemployed talent to reach in-demand tech industry roles. Our cohorts are filled with adults with work experience and verifiable tech skills.

By signing this agreement, you express support for the Color Coded Labs program, interest in gaining early and exclusive access to cohort members, and willingness to allow Color Coded Labs to discuss your support publicly. Our partnership will have the following characteristics, opportunities, requirements, and benefits.

- You will have early and multiple access and touchpoints to Color Coded Labs students at different stages of their skills development, with the opportunity to get to know them outside of a role consideration scenario and the opportunity for you to introduce them to your company, teams, culture, leadership, and roles.
- You will have the opportunity to support technical and nontechnical learning opportunities by having your staff guest lecture, mentor, and network directly with individual students, giving you opportunities to evaluate fitness for your organization and/or contribute to the development of quality candidates for the industry in general.
- Your organization will be named and referenced as a formal Hiring Partner of Color Coded Labs in our literature, marketing materials, and recruitment communications, providing candidates with an incentive to join the program. Color Coded Labs may reference your company and partnership in our communications as both a partner and a supporter.
- Your organization may name Color Coded Labs in your literature and marketing materials, including permission to use our logo, in your description of a commitment to diverse hiring.
- You will be invited to exclusive, invitation-only professional networking events designed to provide a low pressure experience for candidates and companies to meet each other.
- As a Hiring Partner, there is no cost to participate and no obligation to hire our candidates. We believe you will want to, and your early access to them may make your recruiting process smoother.
