March 11, 2022

Dear parents,

Today my youngest turned 26. My “children” now range from 26 to 34 and for a moment I feel old. But I’m still the same person inside, as my father used to remind me. :) A day like today makes me more reflective than usual.

I remember well the chaos of having multiple school age children; like many of you now. There is not enough time in the day for school activities and sports and hobbies and work and household happenings. You go and go and go and go and push through and get it done. The pandemic gave everyone a pause button. That was one positive. The past 2 years especially have been stressful on all of us and the children have been very mindful of our ability to function as adults. They model us well. There is a lot to be negative about, but we become what we feed our mind. What are you feeding your mind? What are your children feeding their minds? Matthew Kelly is a well known Catholic author and thought leader. His quotes are inspiring:

“We become the stories we listen to. But perhaps the more important question is, what stories do you listen to? What stories are forming your life?”

“The way we see the world determines the way we live our lives.”

“Thought determines action. Do not let your whole life be a reaction to the things that happen around you each day. Let your life be an action.”

What are you feeding your soul? There are so many opportunities in our parish to engage in your faith this Lenten season!

“If you don’t have time to pray and read the scriptures, you are busier than God ever intended you to be.”

And now, a positive, gentle reminder about the parking lot pick up routine; we are blessed with a huge parking lot with plenty of space for all cars to park in one of the two designated areas as outlined in the Parent Handbook. Please no “poll parking” by the poll out in no man’s land. This is a G rated parking lot. Also the parking stalls waaaay around by the yellow cones by the gym are for the handicapped. Finally, the fire lane pickup is for parents with preschool students only and those who “won” the front door service at the Shamrock Shuffle, and maybe the Pope if he ever graces us with his presence. Thank you very much.

Keep warm tomorrow. Spring is on the horizon.

See you at Mass.

Mary
