

DOCKETCALENDAR

Calendaring has been a source of headaches for litigators since the dawn of the quill pen.

Why? Because calendaring - to a lawyer - isn't as simple as filling in the correct calendar square...there are rules. Rules that vary from court to court and directly impact where, when, and even how documents and court appearances are expected to be dealt with.

A trial, for example, is likely to contain over one hundred related deadlines. Calendaring this manually takes hours. With DocketCalendar, calendaring an entire case takes less than 5 minutes, and that's just the tip of the iceberg!

Calendar your case in 5 minutes.

Write events DIRECTLY to your Outlook or Google Calendar.
