

NELL HODGSON WOODRUFF SCHOOL OF NURSING

LATINA NURSE LEADERS

A Conversation with Advocate, Author, and Researcher

Join us for an informal and candid discussion with three Latina nurse leaders. Learn about their journeys in nursing and how they are shaping the future of healthcare.

Dr. Adrianna Nava (PhD, MPA, MSN, RN), the current president of the National Association of Hispanic Nurses (NAHN), Research Scientist at NCQA, and Visiting Scholar in the Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing.

Dr. Tina Loarte-Rodriguez (DNP, RN, CIC, CPPS, CPHRM), author of Latinas in Nursing: Stories of Determination, Inspiration, and Trust and Associate Director of Health Equity Measures at the Yale Center for Outcomes Research and Evaluation (CORE).

Dr. Roxana Chicas (PhD, RN), assistant professor and scientist in the Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing.

Friday, November 10, 2023 (RSVP HERE!)

- ◆ 1520 Clifton Rd., Room 203
- ◆ 12:00 - 1:00 pm

Lunch Provided

For additional information and or accommodations, please contact son-diversity@emory.edu

Sponsored by SON-Office of Diversity, Equity, & Inclusion and the Office of Academic Advancement.

EMORY

NELL HODGSON
WOODRUFF
SCHOOL OF NURSING

Dr. Adrianna Nava

Dr. Tina Loarte-Rodriguez

Dr. Roxana Chicas

