

Insurance for Plastics Manufacturers

A suite of business insurance solutions molded to the unique needs of your industry

Plastics make up the shape of our world. These multifaceted materials are integral to every device we need and enjoy. From toys children play with to the cars we drive and the medical devices that save our lives, plastics give form, function and efficiency to everything we need and everything we do.

As a plastics manufacturer, you are an indispensable player in the supply chain that drives American business. But like all manufacturers, the makers of plastic products face risks from equipment breakdown, defective parts, fire hazards, and more. TASK insurance professionals help mid-sized and large customers address those hazards with insurance solutions and risks insights molded into a unified program for today's high-output plastics manufacturers.

We're up to the TASK of protecting your business

TASK professionals understand the unique risks facing manufacturers of plastic products and components. Our team of seasoned insurance consultants help plastics-industry clients manage a broad range of business risks.

TASK risk consultants recognize the significance of ISO certification standards in manufacturing, which challenge companies to measure, evaluate and improve systems and processes to ensure overall product quality and safety.

Our team also understands the critical importance of the complementary disciplines of lean manufacturing and just-in-time inventory management, which help all manufacturers manage costs, optimize efficiency and compete effectively in today's increasingly competitive environment.

We bring to the table knowledge and experience that is mission-critical to manufacturers of:

- molded, extruded and lathe-cut rubber goods
- fabricated plastic and rubber products
- plastic plumbing fixtures, films, pipes and bottles
- rubber or plastic hoses and belting
