BibliU

Based on a survey of 463 college and university students, BibliU found a strong connection between learning content affordability and diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI).
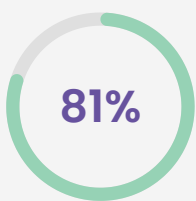

DEI & TEXTBOOK AFFORDABILITY

75% of students agree that no-cost textbooks would improve DEI.

77% of students agree content affordability is key to supporting DEI.
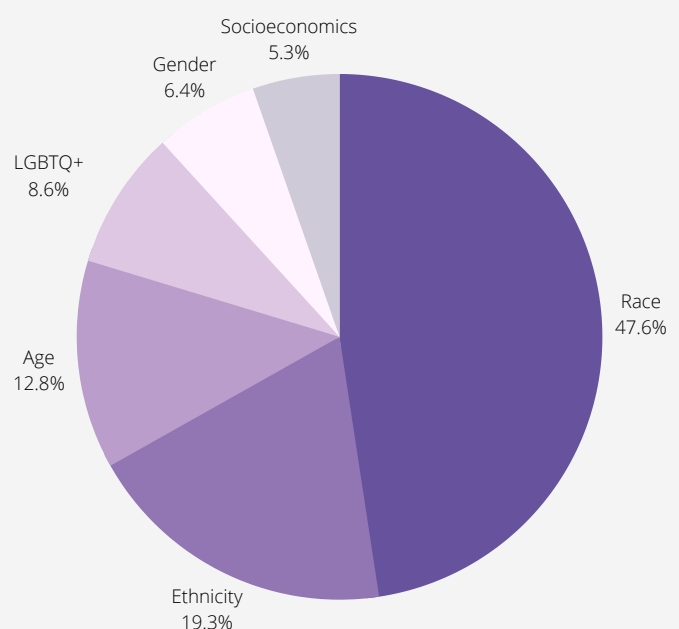

INSTITUTIONAL SUPPORT OF DEI

81% of students said their institution values diversity & inclusion.

72% of students said their institution had a stated commitment to diversity & inclusion.

What constitutes diversity & inclusion?

- Race 47.6%
- Ethnicity 19.3%
- Age 12.8%
- LGBTQ+ 8.6%
- Gender 6.4%
- Socioeconomics 5.3%

Should underrepresented & traditionally marginalized students receive additional considerations, such as the following?

Free course materials & textbooks	Yes
Extra office hours	Yes

0%   10%   20%   30%   40%

77% of students agree that faculty have a responsibility to change teaching styles in support of diversity & inclusion.