

International Women in Berlin

A community of +29K international self-identified women living in Berlin ✨

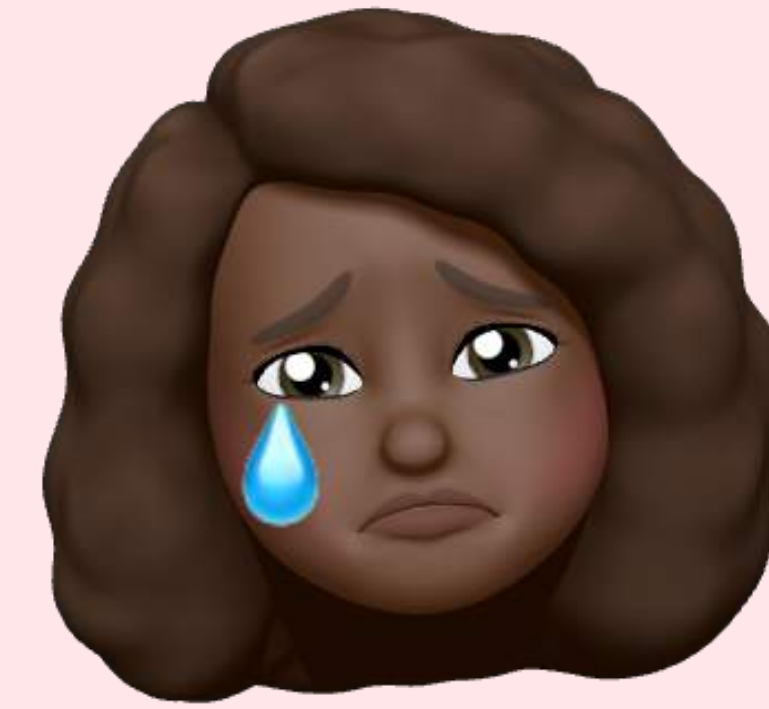

We've noticed a problem...

In a big and international city, such as Berlin, there's a lack of space for self-identified women to talk about their issues and questions.

Normally, the first place they look for help is inside online forums. But unfortunately in those spaces they get harassed by creeps and trolls.

Another issue those women face is missing a close circle of friends. And after the lockdown and during these Corona times, they are feeling more lonely and craving even more for a sense of community.

And we provided a solution

✨ A supportive community ✨ International Women in Berlin

IWB provides a safe space where women can talk about their lives and ask for any kind of help - from dating, German courses to doctors and bureaucracy issues in Berlin.

IWB also provides online and offline spaces, where members can meet and lift each other up, so they don't feel alone in Berlin.

👋 Our Mission

We help international women to navigate their lives better in Berlin. From dealing with German bureaucracy, to connecting to new people and making new friends. Online and offline.

👉 How we support our community

- Education & Information:

When you move to a new country, you get lost in all the new laws, bureaucracy and even cultural aspects of your new home. IWB shares constantly tips and facts about what's going on in Germany and. In Berlin. We also host workshops about different topics, to help our members.

- Connecting & Networking:

Most people who join the IWB group want to meet new people, because they feel lonely in Berlin. That's why we've been organising meet-ups every month where the members can connect with each other and be introduced to other Iwbies.

The collage includes several items:

- A Facebook post from Bru Na (3 days ago) with the text: "BREAKING: The 2G rule for all of Berlin will come in a few days ✨ Because the number of new infections is skyrocketing, the Berlin Senate wants to tighten the corona measures - but especially for those who have not been vaccinated. From next week, 2G will become the new standard. In Berlin, from next week at the latest, only people vaccinated against Corona and recovered from Covid will be allowed to participate in large parts of the city. The Senate will decide this ... See more".
- A green workshop announcement: "👩🏻‍💻 Women & Finances Workshops 👩🏻‍💻 To help the members of our community to manage their finances better, IWB and Marcela Barrera from Investors Abroad are hosting 2 workshops about this topic. 🎟️ Limited spots, get your tickets now 🥰". It features a red starburst graphic that says "LINK FOR THE WORKSHOPS IN THE BIO" and "Limited spots".
- A blue graphic with the text: "@internationalwomeninberlin A Quick Guide to Germany's Political Parties".
- A pink graphic with the text: "THANK YOU SO MUCH TO ALL THE AMAZING MEMBERS WHO SHOWED UP TO OUR PICNIC MEET-UP 🍷🍷🍷 IT WAS SUPER SPECIAL!".
- A pink graphic for a "CROWDFUNDING EVENT" on "29th June" titled "IWB June Meet-Up" with subtext "and Your Wine Match (PBerg)". It includes callouts for "Free IWB Goodies", "Meet new friends in BLN!", and "about mental health".
- A blue graphic with the text: "Let's network and hire each other! LET'S CONNECT ON LINKEDIN Find us there: International Women in Berlin".
- A white graphic with a pink heart icon and the text: "What are your favorite burgers in Berlin? Leave in the comments!".
- A green graphic with the text: "JULY 2022 What will change in Germany".
- A white graphic with the text: "2G-REGEL! geimpft & genesen".
- A white graphic with the text: "What will change in Germany" and "Visit the COVID-19 Get Vaccine Info".

👉 How we support our community

- Sharing Stories & Amplifying Voices:

The feeling of having a space only for women where women help each other is highly valued among the members. We are using our group but mainly our Instagram (+6.2k followers – we started this account in March 2021) to share those stories.

- Safe Space & Resources:

Our community helps each other in the group's feed, but we also share anonymous posts, when some members feel a bit ashamed or uncomfortable to publish some posts under their own name. We also share helpful resources such as lists or recommended doctors, how to make free STI tests, mental health support, etc.

👉 How we support our community

- Organising and curating the best content: During these 5 years of IWB community, a lot of good information has been shared, but unfortunately many posts get lost in the middle of the road. That's why we created sub groups to better organize the most popular topics among members.

As we have visits from at least 10k people per day, and we know these people like to read the posts inside the group, we are building a website where members will have access to the best posts of the group in article form.

Dear Ladies, dear Bruna Silva,

This is a thank you note for the life changing capacity this group had and continues to have. I think I am not wrong to say that it has saved lives. That it has instilled strength, compassion, loving care, inspiration and no-nonsense advice, that it has set many of us on better paths in our lives (personal, professional or identity wise). This group reminds me of the compelling synergy communities such as Berlin Art Parasites, that I managed in the past, have created for the world. Many of us have emerged wiser and stronger from here. Many of us have simply faced the power and the grace to become...ourselves.

And that is a work of art, really. A woman's work.

Congratulations Bruna, and everyone, for your contribution. You helped save my life this year, and I will never forget that.

May you all have peaceful,loving holidays, and a bright, gentle journey into the new decade.

May we all.

Hey lovelies! I was overwhelmed by the positivity and love this group radiated when I posted my heartbreak post. It's really rather unusual for a Facebook group. I'm on a social run right now and I'm trying to

The best thing about IWB is, it isn't limited by one/few topic/s, freedom of talking about anything we like!

I love it! Thanks Bru Na for this amazing community and all that you do 🙏

👉 What members say about IWB

I actually always call it "My Ladies Group" when I talk about it to my partner. Same if I talk about it to other lady friends. It can sound like I am part of a club, but it really has been great. For me mainly where I can give me wisdom and knowledge of the city. I think I am more of the older women, so I like being the bigger sister to empower those who struggle. I am on happy baby hormones so right now cannot find anything negative. Just thank you for being so active on it, and making it the reason I go on facebook, I wouldn't really, unless I am promoting my band and music etc. Love to you Bruna and your team!

Is a really great female supportive group, incredibly helpful and with full of solidarity

👋 Who is behind IWB

Hello, my name is Bruna!

I'm a Brazilian designer who came to Berlin a couple of years ago to start a new life in a city where we can find all kinds of people and possibilities to get what you want in life.

Or that's what I thought.

Yes, Berlin can be an amazing city to fulfill your dreams. But that can be extremely hard when you don't know anybody in the city. It's pretty hard to make friends and network in a new city. And as a woman, sometimes you don't feel that safe to go alone to some places and just talk to strangers.

I felt that. And all the women in this city who I talked to went through that kind of experience as well. Based on that, I created a Facebook Group in 2017 to connect self-identified women in Berlin.

During the last years, I've seen a lot of sisterhood and women empowerment inside the group. I've seen members inviting their friends to our community, witnessed new friendships being built, women getting jobs and housing from contacts they made inside IWB, getting their visa status sorted out and a lot of people being nice and helping each other.

The IWB Team

With the growth of the community, I heard the member's feedback and what would help them to achieve success in Berlin. We started organising events and workshops. We started sharing info about Berlin and Germany, and much more.

The more people would join us, the more work we had to deal with. That's why IWB isn't only a FB group anymore, but a whole project to support a community in various ways.

To keep helping our community of immigrant women, some members are voluntarily helping with some tasks related to the IWB project. Which is amazing, but unfortunately not enough.

That's why IWB is searching for partners and sponsors that could help our project to grow and make much more impact in the lives of women living in Berlin.

👉 Collaboration Ideas

We are open to project collaboration with brands, but here are some starting ideas:

- Sponsorship: We are looking for brands to sponsor us monthly for all the work done in the background of the IWB Project. In return, we will give you constant exposure to our social media.
- Branded content: Posts in our media, talking about your business.
- Speaking Engagement: The IWB founder, Bruna Silva, is being paid to talk about topics such as sisterhood, immigration, changing careers, mental health, and everything related to the IWB ecosystem
- Events Sponsorship: We organise regular meet-ups and we need sponsors for our foods, drinks and also some free goodies for our guests.
- Product Partnership: we are searching for brands that would be willing to give us some free goodies so we can give them away to our audience, in prize draws contests.

Let's have a talk about how could we collaborate in different ways!

Would you like to collaborate with us?
Or know more about us?

We would love to hear from you!

Thank you for your attention!
