WELCOME

to Scribblers Festival

Welcome to Scribblers 2021...and to the world of the imagination! I'm excited to be sharing this year's program with you, where we will be again catering for lit-hungry young people and the young-at-heart with more writers, illustrators, graphic novelists, singer-songwriters and slam poets than ever before.

And this year Scribblers has a new home to celebrate! Once upon a time our Family Weekend took place in Claremont. This May, we're delighted to be moving our FREE weekend 'bookwormery' to the Subiaco Arts Centre on Hamersley Road, a short walk from Subiaco and Daglish train stations.

Everything that we did before we'll be doing even bigger and better at Subiaco: FREE sessions with our guest authors and illustrators, selfies with roaming performers and unicorns, reading prescriptions from book doctors, live podcasts from the Conversation Caravan, and fun at workshops and our special Mother's Day pop-up events.

However, we're kicking off the festivities this year with RELICS: Bricks of the New World at The Goods Shed in Claremont. An immersive exhibition by Jackson Harvey and Alex Towler, the West Australian winners of LEGO Masters Series 2 have combined a selection of found objects and LEGO creations, and will have you looking at the humble LEGO brick in a whole new way.

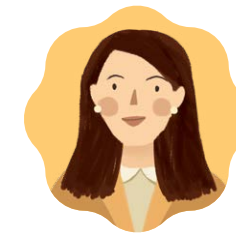

You don't want to miss this original and engaging creative collaboration. But we need your help! Some of the minifigs have escaped The Goods Shed and were last seen heading to Subiaco, can you find them? See page 22 to lend us a helping hand.

This year, due to ongoing COVID-19 restrictions, it is necessary to book for FREE sessions in the Main Auditorium and The Studio. Capacity is limited with these venues and we suggest that you book early to ensure you get a ticket. There will be many FREE activities that don't require a booking that you can take part in during the weekend, including lots of ways to spoil mum for our postponed Mother's Day celebration on Sunday 30 May!

There is nothing more powerful than finding your voice; and Scribblers encourages young people to discover their voices in all sorts of ways: poetically, narratively, and visually, out loud and on the page. We hope you'll join us this May.

Katherine Dorrington
Festival Director

The City of Subiaco is delighted to host and support Scribblers Festival – the only event of its kind in Western Australia. Subiaco symbolises a vibrant blend of entertainment, culture, hospitality, retail, education, dining, heritage and beautiful streetscapes for which Scribblers is a perfect fit.

I'm thrilled the Scribblers Festival of literature and arts for young people has chosen Subiaco as the playground for its wonderful program of events. We look forward to celebrating the magic of storytelling with our local and wider community. The festival welcomes writers, illustrators, artists and readers and includes many fun-filled interactive sessions and workshops that align beautifully with our effervescent community.

Scribblers is bringing together some of Australia's finest authors and illustrators to perform to and inspire thousands of young people, and bring more imagination and creativity into our lives. Whatever your age, I hope you find your voice in Subiaco at this wonderful event. Whether you are already familiar with the delights of our leafy village or are visiting for the first time: welcome. Discover, stay and enjoy yourself in Subiaco and with Scribblers.

Penny Taylor.
