FOREWORD

FROM THE POLICE AND CRIME COMMISSIONER

Joy Allen

Durham Police and Crime Commissioner

Representing the communities of County Durham and Darlington is a responsibility I take extremely seriously. It has been a privilege to serve as Police and Crime Commissioner since I was elected last May, and I take great pride in the many achievements that have followed. Many residents and organisations – and our own policing family including staff, officers, PCSOs, Special Constables and volunteers – have been a part of our journey and I would like to thank them all for their support and contribution to our success.

Last year, I published my first Police and Crime Plan, setting out exactly how I aim to deliver the improvements local people want to see in policing services over the next three years. Central to these has been my ambition to enhance services for victims of crime and I am pleased to say we have already transformed the support we provide by listening and learning from the lived experiences of survivors themselves. Earlier this year, I brought the provision of victims' services under my direct responsibility to ensure appropriate support is available whenever it is needed and to maximise opportunities for improvement.

Further success came in January with the appointment of three new Victims' champions to my team to further strengthen the voices of victims of crime and ensure the planning, policy and commissioning decisions I make reflect their needs.

Protecting women and girls from violence has been another key area of focus over the past year and we have been at the forefront of national efforts to deliver greater justice for sexual violence victims through Project Soteria. Durham Constabulary already has one of the highest charging rates for rape investigations in England and Wales and is playing a critical role in developing future reform.

I have also funded new support services for survivors of sexual violence to help individuals who have experienced rape and sexual assault including pre-trial therapy and sexual violence counselling.

My plan to put more police officers back on our streets is well established with the continued rollout of the government's Operation Uplift programme which will see our frontline grow by a total of 226 officers by the end of this year.

We continue to work hard to maximise the value of the public purse through the best use of our resources. The construction of our state-of-the-art custody and investigations hub at Durham Gate, near Spennymoor, due to be ready in 2023, will lead to significant efficiencies which will be reinvested into frontline policing while up to £6M of the £20M cost could be spent in the local area. Therefore creating jobs and supporting local businesses.

Nationally, I have secured over £1M from the Home Office's Safer Streets scheme this year to crackdown on neighbourhood crimes, and increase women's safety and additional Ministry of Justice (MoJ) funding to increase investment in support services for survivors of abuse and sexual violence.

I was recently appointed by the Association of Police and Crime Commissioners (APCC) as Joint Lead for Environment and Sustainability, and Addictions and Substance Misuse, and Deputy Lead for Road Safety and Emergency Service Collaboration. Through my national policy work and the scrutiny I undertake through my accountability meetings,

I will continue to ensure Durham remains at the very forefront of innovation.

Policing is an ever-evolving landscape and many challenges lie ahead, including the need to reduce the unacceptable levels of death and serious injuries on our roads. There has already been significant investment from my own office and partners to develop technical resources to support this work and I will be monitoring the impact of these measures very closely.

Elsewhere, we are responding robustly to the growing demands placed on our 999 and non-emergency 101 services and improving the timeliness of those calls being answered. I have agreed substantial investment to recruit additional call handlers to ease pressure on calls for assistance and this will continue to be an area I will closely scrutinise.

I will also continue to fight at a national level for a fairer funding formula to deal effectively with the rising complexity in demand.

As this year has shown, adversity brings opportunity and so I am looking forward to stretching the boundaries of what we believe is possible to bring the people of County Durham and Darlington the services they deserve. Your support makes it happen and together we will make a difference.

VISION

My vision is to make our communities safer, stronger, and more resilient to crime and ASB. I want people in County Durham and Darlington to feel safe and secure in their own homes and in their communities.

From my Police and Crime Surveys, I know residents in County Durham and Darlington are concerned about the crime and disorder they see in their neighbourhoods, such as anti-social behaviour, drug use and drug dealing, fly tipping, speeding, and vandalism and see more Police Officers put back on our streets.

I will work with the Chief Constable and local partners to get more funding for County Durham and Darlington and enable Police Officers and Police Community Support Officers (PCSO's) to spend more time on our streets.

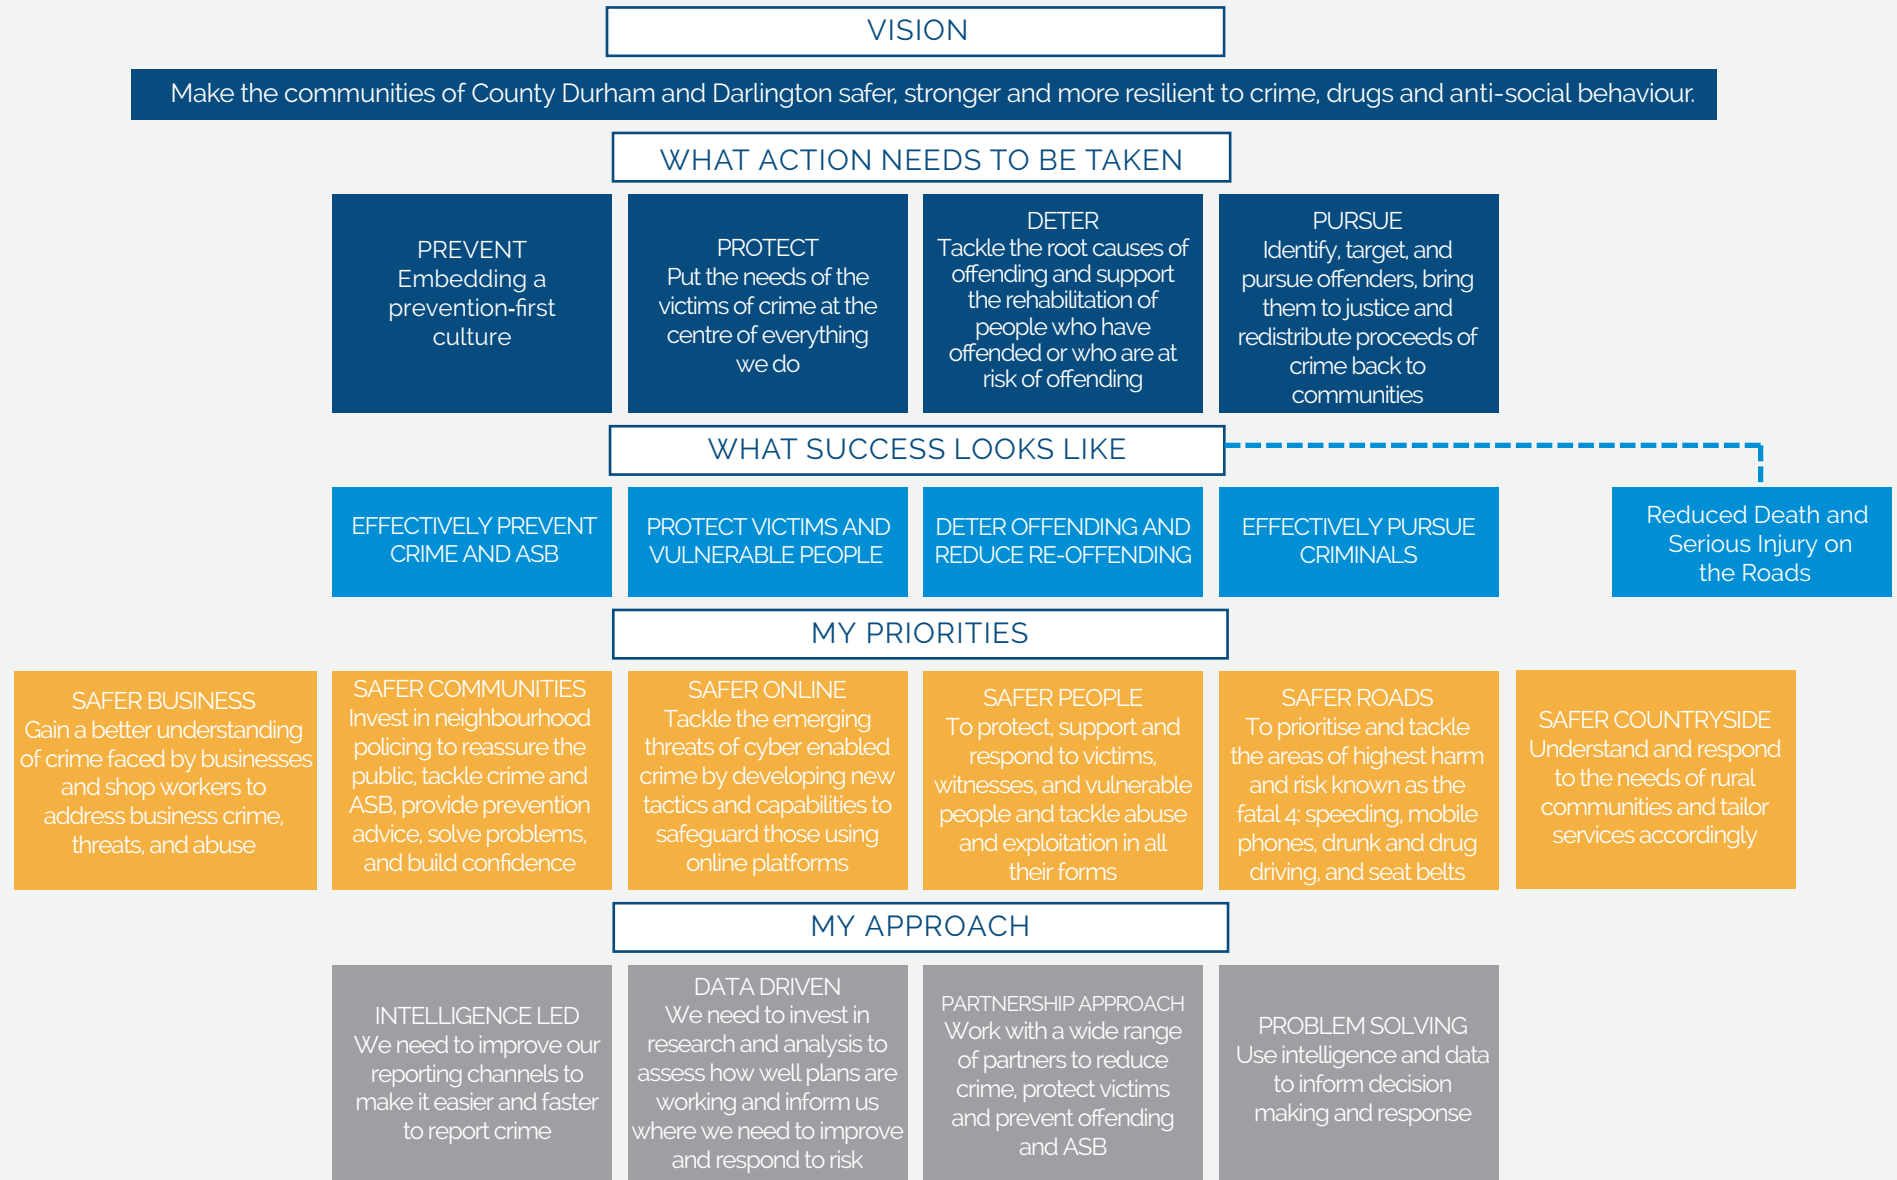

Police alone cannot tackle crime and disorder – we need our communities' help to provide us with better intelligence so we can prevent more crime, protect more individuals, deter more offending and reoffending, and pursue more offenders.

Resilient and confident communities are more likely to report crime and anti-social behaviour (ASB), and they are also more likely to work with others to prevent crime and disorder. I want to make our communities feel safe and give them confidence to report crime to help make the communities of County Durham and Darlington safer, stronger and more resilient to crime, drugs and ASB.

CHIEF CONSTABLE'S REPORT

Over the last year, Durham Constabulary has emerged from the unprecedented challenge of policing, despite the day-to-day pressures of protecting the public during the Covid-19 outbreak, we were always looking forward and during the last year we have been able to press ahead with those plans for the future.

Jo Farrell

Chief Constable
Durham Constabulary

We have made good progress in delivering the PCC's Police and Crime Plan. This includes tackling violence against women and girls, tackling ASB, investing in roads policing, strengthening our response to cyber and digital demands, tackling serious and organised crime, delivering the Uplift Programme, increasing the diversity of the workforce, investing in the Force Control Room and issuing officers with better body worn cameras.

As we emerge from Covid, we are seeing both increasing and changing demand. We are seeing changes in society such as increasing levels of mental and physical health related issues, increased online activity, a move away from a cash-based society and increased social isolation. Our priorities remain tackling drugs, alcohol, and cyber related crime. Even with the Uplift Programme we will be approximately 150 officers less than in 2010. However, better recruitment, better welfare, better IT support and better leadership will go some way to mitigating this.

We have additionally introduced a new shift pattern among response teams, which will free up officer time, help with demand management and improve officer wellbeing. Work is underway on the new investigative hub which will centralise Custody, Property Management and CSI services in one building, with more efficient detainee processing and better investigative processes.

I am confident that the actions we have taken means that we can continue to police the present, whilst ensuring future demands are met. I remain incredibly proud of the Force and the talent and efforts of all who work for Durham Constabulary.

MY PRIORITIES

SAFER COMMUNITIES

Making the communities of County Durham and Darlington safer, stronger and more resilient to crime, drugs and anti-social behaviour.

ENGAGE AND EMPOWER COMMUNITIES TO PLAY AN ACTIVE ROLE IN CRIME PREVENTION AND RESOLVING LOCAL ISSUES

ANTI-SOCIAL BEHAVIOUR

Appoint an Anti-Social Behaviour Champion to spearhead multi-agency action to address persistent anti-social behaviour and chair Community Trigger Resolution Meetings.

- ✓ An ASB Champion has been appointed.

To tackle quality of life issues that matter most to residents, such as anti-social behaviour, fly-tipping, vandalism and dog fouling, we have:

- ✓ Partnered with County Durham Foundation to make £150,000 of funding available to help community and voluntary groups deliver the police and crime plan priorities.
- ✓ Secured £670,864 funding from Round 2 of the Safer Streets Fund to tackle neighbourhood crime.
- ✓ Signed a statement of intent with strategic housing providers in County Durham to jointly address and prioritise anti-social behaviour.
- ✓ Invited residents to identify their top anti-social behaviour priorities during council tax precept consultation. 91% identified ASB as an issue, with the majority 45% concerned about alcohol/drug related ASB.
- ✓ Ensured every single incident of ASB is reviewed by Neighbourhood Policing Teams (NPT) within 24 hours of reporting.
- ✓ Community Response Teams (CRT) operate in Durham City every night during term time to combat anti-social noise.

Lobby the Home Office to consider replicating legal powers currently available to police in Scotland to enable our officers to serve warnings, fines and seize noisy equipment.

- ✓ Proposals to give police new noise powers are contained in the Levelling Up and Regeneration Bill.

Ensure signposting is reinforced with a clear distinction of who to direct ASB related issues to and how to get help.

- ✓ Worked with ASB Help to improve signposting on their national help page.
- ✓ Refreshed anti-social behaviour signposting in Force, Durham County Council and Darlington Borough Council.
- ✓ Ensured clear pathways for anti-social behaviour victim support have been agreed and are in place.
- ✓ Ensured that the anti-social behaviour escalation process is fully understood by the NPT.

To ensure the availability of a trauma informed approach to support victims of persistent, unresolved anti-social behaviour, we have:

- ✓ Agreed a process to ensure victims of ASB related crime are referred via the single front door to the Victim Care and Advice Service (VCAS).
- ✓ A process in place within Force Communications to ensure ASB incidents are tagged for consideration of Community Peer Mentor support and a process agreed and in place to ensure victims of ASB related crime are referred via the single front door (to the Victim Care and Advice Service (VCAS)), with additional support.

To display guidelines on how to enact the (ASB) Community Trigger prominently on websites, notice boards and publications to enable all victims of anti-social behaviour to seek redress, we have:

NEIGHBOURHOOD CRIME

To enhance area based multi-agency hubs that support collaborative problem-solving approaches to reduce crime, anti-social behaviour and victimisation, we can confirm that:

- ✓ Place based hubs are established in Darlington and Horden, with Darlington operating as a best practice multi-agency hub.

- ✓ There are 120 Volunteer Police Cadets, often working with NPT to problem solve issues specifically relating to young people.

To explore the feasibility of establishing a Community Orientated Policing (COP) bank similar to the NHS nursing banks to address demand pressures and provide additional capacity to respond to localised problem-solving solutions. We confirm that:

- ✓ The PCC has raised this potential workforce opportunity with Unison, the Local Police Federation, the Constabulary, the Minister for Policing, the Special Constabulary and the Association of Police and Crime Commissioners.

- ✓ Secured £694,192 under this programme and used for projects in Darlington and Easington.

*The most joined-up approach to offender management was seen in Durham.

BY THE NUMBERS:

- On average 5 people are killed on our roads every day. Many more suffer life changing injuries. Violent, unexpected and often preventable deaths on our roads devastate victims, their families and our communities.
- Covid-19 lockdowns and restrictions in 2020 and the start of 2021 had a significant impact on both traffic levels and collision numbers, with both seeing large decreases. As this means that the financial year 2020-21 is not representative of general road safety trends. The following statistics compare the last pre-Covid year of 2019-20, and the first post-lockdown year of 2021-22 to ensure we are comparing like with like.
- There was a decrease of 19.2% in the total volume of all road traffic collisions from 817 in 2019/2020 to 660 in 2021/2022
- The number of people killed or seriously injured in road traffic collisions remained exactly the same in 2021/2022 as it was in 2019/2020, with 257 fatal and serious injuries in both years.
- County Durham saw one of the highest proportions of total injuries related to drink driving across the North East, with 8% of all reported injuries in 2021/2022 resulting from a collision that involved a suspected drink driver.
- In 2021/2022 there were 35 slight, 18 serious and 2 fatal injuries, which is a small increase from 33 slight, 17 serious and 2 fatal injuries in 2019/2020.

To take enforcement action and educate those who endanger the lives of road users and pedestrians and support tougher sentences for dangerous driving. We can confirm that:

- ✓ The total number of breath tests carried out increased from 3,724 in 2020/2021 to 5,979 in 2021/2022 – an increase of 61%.

- ✓ The number of positive tests increased from 559 in 2020/2021 to 582 in 2021/2022 – an increase of 4%.

- 1,229 drink and drug drivers arrested across County Durham and Darlington roads.
- 1181 vehicles have been seized; 993 uninsured and 188 for no licence.
- Speeding detections: 27,264. 26,058 via speed camera unit and 1,206 by officers issuing tickets.

MEASURING PROGRESS AGAINST THE PUBLIC'S POLICE AND CRIME PRIORITIES

As Police and Crime Commissioner, I am committed to enabling local communities to have a voice on policing, victims and community safety matters. I am here to ensure that the community needs are met as effectively as possible, and to improve local relationships by building confidence and restoring trust.

Community engagement is one of the central responsibilities of my role and one I take very seriously. During the last year I have worked hard to be visible and accessible to the communities I serve.

There are four main types of communication which I use to achieve effective and efficient communications with you as resident's, businesses, and stakeholders.

EDUCATE

Proactively educate local communities on the work of my office and continue to grow awareness of the work we do with local partners and organisations.

INVOLVE

Involving our partners in joint releases and campaigns where possible to build relationships and amplify the key messages we need to deliver.

INFORM

I aim to be open and honest, and keep you informed on the activities of my Office, community safety, victims and criminal justice issues.

CONSULT

To allow informed strategic planning and decision making, such as consultation on a proposed increase to the precept. My comms team have engaged with the press and media outlets to publicise our work to the widest audience. Analysis of results have been presented and shared, and I have made informed decisions based upon the consultation outcomes.

I have done this through the following routes:

- One-to-One Private Appointments
- Consultations and Surveys
- Social Media
- Independent Scrutiny Panels
- Press releases
- Website Updates
- Community Meetings
- Community Events
- Consultation with those who have lived experience
- Public Accountability Meetings

FOR EXAMPLE

Public Accountability Meetings

Previously these meetings (where the PCC holds the Chief Constable and the Force to account for policing in the area) were not open to the public or recorded. As PCC I wanted to address this by being more open, accountable and transparent in the delivery of my duties.

During the last year I have actively encouraged residents of County Durham and Darlington to submit their questions ahead of the Public Accountability Meetings where I hold the Chief Constable and her Executive Team to account for policing in the Force area.

These meetings are recorded to enable residents to see and hear how the accountability process works and the role the PCC plays in delivering an efficient and effective Police Service.

This progressive approach enables me to give residents the opportunity to raise what matters most to them so I can hold the Chief Constable to account on their behalf to make County Durham and Darlington stronger, safer and more resilient to crime, drugs and anti-social behaviour.

Public Accountability Meetings Held

- 26th August 2021- Proposed centralisation of Custody and Investigative Hub
- 22nd December 2021- Op Endurance
- 17th February 2022- Violence Against Women and Girls
- 17th March 2022- Police Uplift Programme

A full recording of these meetings, including all questions and answers are uploaded on YouTube and made available to the public and can be found here:

www.youtube.com/user/DurhamPCC.

POLICING BUDGET AND PRECEPT

Budget

- I had a budget of £135.8 million for 2021/22. Of the revenue budget £133.4 million was delegated to the Chief Constable to fund the operational policing service. The balance of £2.4 million was held by me to fund the office budget, audit and governance, community safety and victims services.
- The cost of my office budget, audit and governance is £1.1 million and the balance was spent on community safety, victim services and reducing reoffending. I also received a government grant of £1.3 million to commission services for victims of crime.
- I set a capital budget of £13.2 million which included investment in buildings, fleet, technology and equipment. This was funded from a combination of government grant, council tax and the proceeds from the sale of assets.

Precept

- Following public consultation, the precept was increased by £10 for £2022/23. This increased the precept to £240.24 for a Band D property in County Durham and Darlington. This is near the national average.

- Given the overall support for an increase from the public consultation, and the need to support policing beyond the constraints of Uplift funding, the increase in precept of £10 per household per year for Band D properties will enable the Force to:
- Increase officer numbers from 1,275 to 1,365 by 31 March 2023
- Recruit and maintain PCSO numbers at 146
- Recruit additional call handlers to respond to 101 and 999 calls
- Introduce Operation Snap to identify and pursue dangerous drivers (by uploading dashcam footage/helmet cam evidence)
- Employ additional IT staff
- Invest IT technology to improve service delivery including online reporting.

The precept levels for a Band D property for local Police & Crime Commissioner areas are:

- National Average £240
- Northumbria £144
- Cumbria £272
- North Yorkshire £271
- Cleveland £266
- North Yorkshire £271

Police Funding 2021/2022

Police Force	Gov't Funding £m	Precept £m	Total £m	Govt Funding %	Precept %	£ raised per 1% Precept £m
Durham	100.5	39.9	140.4	71.60%	28.40%	0.399
Northumbria	263.4	56.8	320.2	82.30%	17.70%	0.568
Cleveland	109	40.9	149.9	72.70%	27.30%	0.409
North Yorkshire	100.6	81.9	182.5	55.10%	44.90%	0.819
Surrey	117.6	144.1	261.7	44.90%	55.10%	1.441

FAIR FUNDING

Fair funding is essential if policing is to deal effectively with the rising complexity in its demand. Any new funding formula should include provision for the fact that policing deals with harm as well as volume, and that policing is required, in the first instance, to prevent crime where possible.

A great deal of policing work is taken up with non-crime related demand issues. County Durham and Darlington have a combination of urban and rural areas, affluence and deprivation which present substantial challenges to providing effective and efficient police response.

Durham like other forces, received its funding from two sources: central government grant and local precept. Durham currently receives 71% of its funding from government, and 29% from precept.

The ability to raise funding through the local precept is limited by the high proportion of households in the force area that fall into the Council Tax Band A category. This means that 1% rise in precept does not have the same impact as our neighbouring force in North Yorkshire and the likes of Surrey (which raises the highest percentage of total funding through local precept).

The ability to raise local precept at a consistent rate across the county is a major factor when considering the overall funding distribution of police grants nationally. This underpins the need for a fair funding formula and adequate overall level of grant.

I have real concerns about the Government's proposals to introduce a new funding formula and its likely impact on areas such as ours with lower population growth but deep-rooted socio-economic problems such as those we face locally.

As PCC I will continue to push for fair settlements to help the local police service address the rising costs of energy and fuel costs, ICT cost increases, and other service led pressures due to inflation.

THE POLICE UPLIFT PROGRAMME

137 Police Officers, 27 PCSOs and 28 call handlers were added to the Force by March 2022.

The Police Uplift Programme (PUP) aims to recruit 20,000 new officers by March 2023. Durham's share of this is 226 additional officers. This does not include officers who retire and are replaced as part of normal business.

I am committed to ensuring the Force continue Attraction, Recruitment, Retention and Progression (ARRP) across all areas of protected characteristics to attract, develop, progress and retain a diverse workforce which is representative of the communities we serve in line with the National Workforce Representation Toolkit.

As PCC I am committed to ensuring the Force continue to deliver on their part in the governments Police Uplift Programme. I am proud of the success we have achieved and will continue to maintain personal oversight over recruitment plans.

The additional Officers will help me to deliver my Police and Crime Plan and will help improve life for local people, reduce their risk and fear of crime, and increase their confidence in reporting crime.

Our success in attracting more recruits than we had been tasked by the government has put us in a strong position to deliver on our Plan. Going forward I will be focused on attracting, developing and retaining a diverse workforce to ensure the communities of County Durham and Darlington feel safer, stronger and more resilient to crime, drugs and anti-social behaviour.

SERVICES FOR VICTIMS AND GRANT FUNDING

Maximising Funding Opportunities

I have encouraged the continuation of partnership funding bids such as the Safer Streets Fund which has successfully secured substantial sums for improvements in community safety in parts of County Durham and Darlington.

This year, in addition to the annual Ministry of Justice (MoJ) Victims Grant, my team secured an extra £600,000 from the MoJ to support those who have suffered the worst abuse and violence (DA/SV) and £300,000 to train professionals to recognise signs of domestic abuse and address the behaviour of perpetrators of that crime.

Safer Streets Fund

In the past year, work got fully underway to deliver the £1,191,705 of funding the PCC secured from the Home Office's Safer Streets fund to improve community safety.

My Office worked in partnership with Durham Police, Durham County Council, and Darlington Borough Council to develop three bids. All were successful, securing over £1m in funding for three at-risk areas in the force area. They were:

Location	Purpose of Funding	Safer Streets
Darlington	To design and deliver local crime prevention plans, with the outcome of reducing acquisitive crimes through situational prevention	£266,630
Darlington	Deliver solutions to improve safety in public places for all, with a particular focus on tackling VAWG crimes and reducing the fear of these crimes occurring in public areas	£497,513
Horden, County Durham	To design and deliver local crime prevention plans with the outcome of reducing acquisitive crimes through situational prevention	£427,562

Commissioning Strategy

My commissioning strategy sets out how I commission services to support the delivery of the Police and Crime Plan.

Commissioning forms a crucial part of establishing, maintaining and improving services to help victims of crime cope and recover, prevent crime and anti-social behaviour and keep communities safe.

Commissioning involves understanding where gaps exist and what services are necessary, working in partnership to ensure they are delivered well and evaluating their effectiveness.

My preferred approach is to co-commission services with a shared service provider which supports victims of domestic abuse and includes an overarching service that assesses the needs of victims of crime and refers them to support agencies.

Victims Services

PCC's are responsible for commissioning local services to support victims of crime. To help with this I receive an annual grant from the Ministry of Justice. I currently commission several specialist services to support young victims of crime, victims of domestic abuse and sexual violence as well as an overarching service that any victims of crime can receive support from.

Support from these services is available even if a victim chooses not to report the crime to the police.

In 2021/2022 I allocated £592,000 to support victims of domestic abuse, £327,000 to support victims of sexual violence and £351,000 to support overarching services that assess the needs of victims of crime.

Last year I took the decision to bring the Victim Care & Advice Service and Community Peer Mentor Service in house. This transition was completed in March 2022 to improve services for the people the services support, particularly victims of crime and ASB, whilst improving efficiency, effectiveness and value for money.

The service to provide support for those who suffer sexual violence was put out to tender and the successful service provider will provide victims with a cohesive and effective service tailored to their needs

ENVIRONMENT AND SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

PCCs have a critical role to play in ensuring that their forces, commissioned services and offices are employing environmentally friendly and sustainable practices. Concern about climate change is an important issue for the public and this gives PCCs a strong mandate as the public's champion to ensure that policing is striving to meet the challenges of climate change and taking steps to mitigate the risks that it poses.

The College of Policing has identified that climate change is one of the top ten most significant challenges for policing over the next ten years. As the APCC national portfolio lead for Environment and Sustainability I sit on the strategic board that is overseeing this important programme of work.

I am keen to see the four nations of UK policing working together on this critical issue and to facilitate opportunities to enable us to learn from each other. We all need to develop sustainable fleet, that prepare policing for the 2030 ban on the sale of new petrol and diesel cars, create wider benefits for local communities through social value programmes and practices and ensure that estates, both new and old are developed in an environmentally friendly and sustainable manner.

Emergency Services Environment and Sustainability Group

My Office is a member of The Emergency Services Environment and Sustainability Group (EESG) which includes members from UK Police Forces, Fire and Rescue Services, Ambulance Services and other Emergency services who meet to share best practice and discuss emerging technologies, government policy and legislative requirements.

They have developed a Sustainability Charter to enable members to pledge their support to work toward a set of common goals and aspirations embed sustainability within their own organisations and achieve national and international sustainability objectives.

It will also help identify positive effects on sustainability within communities and manage any negative effect and risks.

By signing this Charter I recognised that the Force as an emergency service has the potential to affect the local and global environment, society and the wider economy and that climate change and global trends will continue to have an impact on the demands placed upon our emergency services.

Fleet

The Force understand they need to move away from internal combustion engine vehicles but recognise the limited suitability of electric vehicles for operational policing (due to demands of police driving).

The development of a local infrastructure for charging requires substantial investment and is something the I have been encouraging in my national role as an APCC environment and sustainability lead.

Estate

From April 2022 I will cease to receive funding towards capital investment or upkeep for buildings, nor for technology, or fleet. This means that any money I choose to spend on assets needs to be funded from council tax and prioritised against all other competing demands for money.

Prior to this financial year I was receiving approx. £0.1m per year capital grant from the Home Office, however this did not cover the amount of money needed to maintain the estate or the necessary investment in technology or fleet.

Pre- austerity in 2010, the level of capital grant received was approx. £1.3m per year. This means that the grant to invest in our public assets has reduced by over 100%, before placing a significant pressure on existing Police budgets.

As PCC I will need to review the estates strategies to refresh our thinking, I will work with other PCC's to share knowledge and good practice and carry out benchmarking, but this will need investment.

Social Value

Upon my appointment I took the decision to include social value principles in all my Office and Force procurement policies and processes to encourage the awarding of contracts for goods and services to organisations based in County Durham and Darlington and the North East Region.

Social value criteria forms 10% or more of scoring for the award of high value contracts such as construction and in the provision of custody provision and investigative hub.

By attributing a 10% weighting to social value criteria the Force was the first police service in the UK to utilise the Blue Light Commercial Social Value Toolkit which has been designed to help current and future suppliers of police forces to develop action plans to make positive impact on the local environment and the economy.

Making the communities of County Durham and Darlington safer, stronger and more resilient to crime, drugs and anti-social behaviour.

Our ambitious plans to centralise custody provision, along with state-of-the-art investigative hub, has the potential to deliver £6M in social value.

The Durham Gate facility represents the largest-ever investment undertaken by the Force and it's already boosting local businesses, jobs and the economy.

Led by local contractor Tilbury Douglas, the development is delivering on its social value commitments. Among the team are two Quantity Surveyor Apprentices and work is underway to facilitate student work placements and training opportunities.

Project co-ordinators are also working with the charity Changing Lives, supporting vulnerable people to find work and training.

It's estimated £7.7 M will be spent with small to medium enterprises in line with the new custody and investigative hub build and at least £1.9M will be spent in the local supply chain.

In recognition of this ground-breaking work my office was asked to pilot a national project 'Go 4 Grow' with construction Innovation Hub, with the development of a Construction Value Toolkit to support more businesses to bid for public contracts and introduce social value initiatives.

County Durham Pound

My Office is an active member of the 'County Durham Pound' project and I am a signatory to the partners Statement of Intent. A core aim is to drive social, economic, and environmental benefits, known as 'social value'.

A core objective of the project is for organisations to collaborate and learn from each other, to generate positive outcomes for the people and places that would benefit the most from them.

Darlington Anchor Network

My Office is also an active member of the Darlington Anchor Network (the delivery arm of the Public Service Executive Group) which is exploring the extent to which the partners can increase levels of spend with local organisations and small to medium sized enterprises.

National Influence

At a national level, I jointly chair the Association of Police and Crime Commissioners Environment and Sustainability portfolio with PCC for Suffolk and I am a member of the BlueLight Commercial Board. My Office is also represented on the National Police Transport and Charging Infrastructure Group and the Modern Slavery Transparency in Supply Chain (TISC) Advisory Group.

Going forward I will continue to advocate getting the maximum social value benefits from any high value procurement project, utilising the BlueLight Commercial business baseline to drive this work forward.

Working with you and for you, to make the communities of County Durham and Darlington safer, stronger and more resilient to crime, drugs and anti-social behaviour.
