TACTICAL ANALYSIS

PARTICIPATION IN DIFFERENT ZONES

He demonstrates his interpretation on and off the ball, being active in different lanes and heights, such as building-up zone, through the line space, next to the side and into the box. His positional intelligence allows him to show up as an option of pass, having space and time to perform.

DEEP PASS

Regarding his interpretation of play to position on the field, he is a footballer who knows when to pass the ball. He generates advantages in the last meters of the pitch, where he stands out to pass in behind the defenders due to his timing and weight of pass.

DRIVING THE BALL

He has the tempo of play. He does not rush the game, but understands when to pass after driving the ball. The way he takes the ball forward allows him to advance both at positional play and transition into attack. He keeps the ball near his foot and then attract rivals to find out an open.

TACTICAL ANALYSIS

ARRIVING FROM THE MIDDLE

Due to his capacity of recognizing opens, he can be used as a finishing tool when entering the box. He understands when and how to show up in order to receive free to make a shot.

DEFENSIVE 1V1 DUEL

His shooting technique is important to finish actions because it allows him to generate advantages and offer solutions by either passing or shooting the ball. He is accurate to find out teammates and put them into a scoring chance.

DEFENSIVE WORK

He is a footballer who is committed to retreat into shape and help press around his zone to regain possession. He has a good recovering technique due to his timing to tackle or making a slide tackle. In addition, he is capable of anticipating or close gaps to transition into attack quick.
